Solutions Toselected Exercices in Basic Algebra I Nathan Jacobson,1978      Solutions to Further Exercices in 'basic Algebra 1' by Nathan Jacobson J. S. Lew,1979      Basic Algebra Nathan Jacobson,1971      Basic Algebra Nathan Jacobson (Wiskundige),1974      Lectures in Abstract Algebra Nathan Jacobson,2000 The present volume completes the series of texts on algebra which the author began more than ten years ago The account of field theory and Galois theory which we give here is based on the notions and results of general algebra which appear in our first volume and on the more elementary parts of the second volume dealing with linear algebra The level of the present work is roughly the same as that of Volume II In preparing this book we have had a number of objectives in mind First and foremost has been that of presenting the basic field theory which is essential for an understanding of modern algebraic number theory ring theory and algebraic geometry The parts of the book concerned with this aspect of the subject are Chapters I IV and V dealing respectively with finite dimensional field extensions and Galois theory general structure theory of fields and valuation theory Also the results of Chapter III on abelian extensions although of a somewhat specialized nature are of interest in number theory A second objective of our account has been to indicate the links between the present theory of fields and the classical problems which led to its development

Lectures in Abstract Algebra N. Jacobson,2012-12-06 The present volume completes the series of texts on algebra which the author began more than ten years ago The account of field theory and Galois theory which we give here is based on the notions and results of general algebra which appear in our first volume and on the more elementary parts of the second volume dealing with linear algebra The level of the present work is roughly the same as that of Volume II In preparing this book we have had a number of objectives in mind First and foremost has been that of presenting the basic field theory which is essential for an understanding of modern algebraic number theory ring theory and algebraic geometry The parts of the book concerned with this aspect of the subject are Chapters I IV and V dealing respectively with finite dimensional field extensions and Galois theory general structure theory of fields and valuation theory Also the results of Chapter III on abelian extensions although of a somewhat specialized nature are of interest in number theory A second objective of our account has been to indicate the links between the present theory of fields and the classical problems which led to its development

Basic Algebra Nathan Jacobson (Hochschullehrer, Mathematiker, Polen, USA),1977      Linear Algebraic Groups T.A. Springer,2010-10-12 The first edition of this book presented the theory of linear algebraic groups over an algebraically closed field The second edition thoroughly revised and expanded extends the theory over arbitrary fields which are not necessarily algebraically closed It thus represents a higher aim As in the first edition the book includes a self contained treatment of the prerequisites from algebraic geometry and commutative algebra as well as basic results on reductive groups

As a result the first part of the book can well serve as a text for an introductory graduate course on linear algebraic groups
