Felder,Rebecca Brent,2016-02-22 Rethink traditional teaching methods to improve student learning and retention in STEM Educational research has repeatedly shown that compared to traditional teacher centered instruction certain learner centered methods lead to improved learning outcomes greater development of critical high level skills and increased retention in science technology engineering and mathematics STEM disciplines Teaching and Learning STEM presents a trove of practical research based strategies for designing and teaching STEM courses at the university community college and high school levels The book draws on the authors extensive backgrounds and decades of experience in STEM education and faculty development Its engaging and well illustrated descriptions will equip you to implement the strategies in your courses and to deal effectively with problems including student resistance that might occur in the implementation The book will help you Plan and conduct class sessions in which students are actively engaged no matter how large the class is Make good use of technology in face to face online and hybrid courses and flipped classrooms Assess how well students are acquiring the knowledge skills and conceptual understanding the course is designed to teach Help students develop expert problem solving skills and skills in communication creative thinking critical thinking high performance teamwork and self directed learning Meet the learning needs of STEM students with a broad diversity of attributes and backgrounds The strategies presented in Teaching and Learning STEM don t require revolutionary time intensive changes in your teaching but rather a gradual integration of traditional and new methods The result will be continual improvement in your teaching and your students learning More information about Teaching and Learning STEM can be found at <http://educationdesignsinc.com> book including its preface foreword table of contents first chapter a reading guide and reviews in 10 prominent STEM education journals

Computational Vision and Medical Image Processing V Joao Tavares,R.M. Natal Jorge,2015-10-14 VipIMAGE 2015 contains invited lectures and full papers presented at VIPIMAGE 2015 V ECCOMAS Thematic Conference on Computational Vision and Medical Image Processing Tenerife Canary Islands Spain 19 21 October 2015 International contributions from 19 countries provide a comprehensive coverage of the current state of the art in the fields of Technologies in Biomedical and Life Sciences Education Harry J. Witchel,Michael W. Lee,2022-06-24 This contributed volume focuses on understanding the educational strengths and weaknesses of mediated content including media as a learning supplement in comparison to traditional face to face learning Each chapter includes research on and a broad brush summary of approaches to combining life sciences education with educational technologies The chapters are organized into four main sections each of which focuses on a key question regarding the consequences of incorporating media into education In this regard the authors highlight how educational technology is both a bridge and barrier to student access and inclusivity Further they address the ongoing discussion as to whether students need to be present for lectures and on how having agency in their own learning can improve both retention and conceptual understanding To link the content to current events the authors also shed light on the impact that the COVID 19 pandemic is having on the continuity of educational programs and on the growing importance of educational technologies Consequently the book offers life science educators valuable guidance on the technologies already available and an outlook on what is yet to come
