

Sonnet 116

by William Shakespeare

'Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments.

 Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove:

 O no; it is an ever-fixed mark,
 That looks on tempests,
 and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark,
 Whose worth's unknown,
 although his height be taken.

 Love's not Time's fool,
 though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
 But bears it out even to the edge of doom.
 If this be error and upon me proved,
 I never writ, nor no man ever loved.'

Shakespeare presents the reader with his conception of love in its most ideal form. The main idea put forth in 116 is that ideal love is constant and permanent that it never alters either with changing circumstances first quatrain difficulties second quatrain or with time third quatrain The final rhyming couplet makes a defensive challenge to any reader who might want to contest this view of love and the poet stakes his own poetry as his wager that love is exactly as he has described it In spite of Shakespeare s challenge some scholars notably Carol Neely have detected a gradual deterioration throughout the course of the poem in the poet s representation of ideal love suggesting that the poet deep down has reservations about the enduring quality of love It is this view which I seek to contest Canadian Books in Print ,2003
