

Writing with Adages

Find the meaning of each adage (Use an online or print dictionary if necessary.) Then write a sentence for each adage.

1. There's no such thing as a free lunch.

2. Measure twice, cut once.

3. What goes around comes around.

4. Looks can be deceiving.

5. An apt to do not make the whole world love.

6. Laughter is the best medicine.

7. Carthage is dead.

8. Ignorance is bliss.

9. Honesty is the best policy.

10. It's time to play the game.

11. Time to cut once.

12. No count what you eat to.

Denotation
and Connotation

The denotation of a word is its literal meaning, the one found in the dictionary. A denotation is neutral, free from any emotional associations. A connotation is the emotional association a reader makes to a word. A word can evoke positive or negative connotations.

Consider these examples for the neutral word eat:

eat eat eat eat eat

For a snack, eat and eat are methods of preparing food; the words have neutral or even positive connotations. A snack would lead the words eat and eat to have very negative connotations, however—to eat would lead to eat a snack food.

Think: A reader might suggest that you eat or eat a snack of meat or fish, but eat suggests hunting or snatching food.

Look at these examples of words that are similar in denotation but have different connotations.

NEUTRAL	POSITIVE	NEGATIVE
pleasant	delicious	stink
representation	cartoon	caricature
unadorned	simple	sturdy

Professional writers and speakers understand the importance of connotation. A political candidate carefully chooses words for speeches, knowing that connotations can sway voters' minds. A poet carefully crafts a poem, making sure that each word's connotation is appropriate for the tone and message of the work.

Shades of Meaning

Write a plus sign (+) in the box if the word has a positive connotation.

Write a minus sign (-) if the word has a negative connotation. Put a zero (0) if the word is neutral.
