Economic Development and Inequality in China Hong Yu,2017-09-29 The conventional belief that all regions have equally benefited from China's remarkable development over the last three decades is subjected to criticism in this book as Hong Yu systematically analyses the issue of regional inequality during the post 1978 period using the case of Guangdong. Guangdong is one of the key industrial centres and economic powerhouses in China and as a pioneer province instigating economic reform as China opened up to the world it offers an ideal focus upon which to question and enrich the Western theories of economic geography and regional disparity. Based on field research analysis of geographic characteristics and regression models this book illustrates how Guangdong's impressive development record has been marred by its rising regional disparity. investigates the main causes of this disparity and draws conclusions regarding the lessons China can learn from it. Economic Development and Inequality in China will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese economics, Chinese regional studies, economic geography and China Studies. Hong Yu is a Visiting Research Fellow at the National University of Singapore. His research interests lie in the field of regional economy. He is the author of a chapter on China's two delta regions in the book China and The Global Economic Crisis

Capacity innovation is the key to Africa's transformation with the appropriate catalysts innovation and transformation are but a matter of time in gestation. The first of two major catalysts necessary to prompting this change so long sought by Africans came at the adoption of the New Partnership for Africa's Development. It is one of the most profound collaborations of African Heads of State. The second catalyst is proposed in this work in the form of the multinational corporation as change agent for the innovation process working in alliance with NEPAD as Africa's spokesperson for innovation. The policy framework for African capacity innovation is the material product along with discourse for redress of corruption and security policy narrative for protecting the assets of multinational corporations. Ohio Educational Monthly and the National Teacher ,1882      Growing Community Forests Ryan Bullock, Gayle Broad, Lynn Palmer, M.A. (Peggy) Smith, 2017-10-13 Canada is experiencing an unparalleled crisis involving forests and communities across the country. While municipalities, policy makers and industry leaders acknowledge common challenges such as an overdependence on US markets, rising energy costs and lack of diversification, no common set of solutions has been developed and implemented. Ongoing and at times contentious public debate has revealed an appetite and need for a fundamental rethinking of the relationships that link our communities, governments, industrial partners and forests towards a more sustainable future. The creation of community forests is one path that promises to build resilience in forest communities and ecosystems. This model provides local control over common forest lands in order to activate resource development opportunities, benefits and social responsibilities. Implementing community forestry in practice has proven to be a complex task; however, there are no road maps or well developed and widely tested models for community forestry in Canada. But in settings where community forests have taken hold, there is a rich and growing body of experience to draw on. The contributors to Growing Community Forests include leading researchers, practitioners, Indigenous representatives, government representatives, local advocates and students who are actively engaged in sharing experiences, resources and tools of significance to forest resource communities, policy makers and industry.

Kaspar,2025-09-23 This book discusses the often underestimated role of investment promotion agencies IPAs in attracting foreign direct investment FDI Analysing the subject not only along theoretical lines and from the perspective of IPAs and governments but also through the eyes of practitioners and corporate investors it charts a more holistic picture of the FDI decision making process and its subsequent implementation An in depth analysis of national and regional IPA structures and investment promotion practises provides the reader with a broad understanding of state of the art investment promotion By adding the corporate managers perspective the reader gets a first hand impression of how widely known IPAs are in the corporate world which IPA services are sought after and which are considered less useful For corporate managers FDI projects are complex and often risky and to understand their expectations towards IPAs should further the current policy debate Given the significant sums of money spent each year on FDI incentives and given that the fortunes of nation states can be turned around on FDI as Ireland and Singapore have conclusively demonstrated a more grounded analysis of investment policies and promotion strategies is increasingly taking centre stage in policy debate The book fills a gap by providing operationally useful answers to corporate managers and thereby also furthering our understanding of FDI decision making which in turn allows governments to align their policy offerings This book is therefore a useful resource for students and researchers of international economics and business and political economy as well as policymakers Investment
