Intermediate Microeconomics Steve Erfle,2017-09-14 The overarching premise of this text is that microeconomics is most effectively learned in an active learning interactive environment Students have access to more than 200 Interactive Excel Figures in the online text that allow them to move the graphs using sliders and click boxes This interactivity helps students understand how graphic elements relate to one another These files do not require knowledge of Excel More figures than are typical and many of the figures involve multiple scenarios of the same basic graph Often the text employs interactive questions that require interpreting these scenarios questions posed are answered at the bottom of the page Despite the geometric orientation this text is not light on algebraic analysis The geometry is backed up by the relevant algebra More than 500 equations are numbered for easy reference both within and across chapters And just like the geometry the algebra is essentially error free because it was used to create the graphs The geometric orientation is perfect for the non calculus enhanced classroom but the text can be readily used in a calculus based class because a calculus treatment of the material is provided in appendices and endnotes and calculus based problems are included in the Intermediate Microeconomics An Interactive Approach Workbook Practical Data Analysis in Chemistry Marcel Maeder,Yorck-Michael Neuhold,2007-08-10 The majority of modern instruments are computerised and provide incredible amounts of data Methods that take advantage of the flood of data are now available importantly they do not emulate graph paper analyses on the computer Modern computational methods are able to give us insights into data but analysis or data fitting in chemistry requires the quantitative understanding of chemical processes The results of this analysis allows the modelling and prediction of processes under new conditions therefore saving on extensive experimentation Practical Data Analysis in Chemistry exemplifies every aspect of theory applicable to data analysis using a short program in a Matlab or Excel spreadsheet enabling the reader to study the programs play with them and observe what happens Suitable data are generated for each example in short routines this ensuring a clear understanding of the data structure Chapter 2 includes a brief introduction to matrix algebra and its implementation in Matlab and Excel while Chapter 3 covers the theory required for the modelling of chemical processes This is followed by an introduction to linear and non linear least squares fitting each demonstrated with typical applications Finally Chapter 5 comprises a collection of several methods for model free data analyses Includes a solid introduction to the simulation of equilibrium processes and the simulation of complex kinetic processes Provides examples of routines that are easily adapted to the processes investigated by the reader Model based analysis linear and non linear regression and model free analysis are covered Microsoft Office Excel 2010 QuickSteps John Cronan,2010-01-26 Step by Step Full Color Graphics Start using Excel 2010 right away the QuickSteps way Color screenshots and clear instructions make it easy to ramp up on the latest release of Microsoft s powerful spreadsheet application Follow along and quickly learn how to create

Maniraho,2022-10-10 Master s Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject African Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 1 language English abstract The goal of this research is to create an agri business model to create uses for tomato crop farmers in Rwanda This study places special focus on addressing the lack of value addition in tomato crop farm leftovers and investigates the current state of farm leftover utilization as a method of dealing with tomato cultivation difficulties as well as related issues The research study used an exploratory mixed method research design and the researcher interviewed and surveyed specified and identified tomato farmers as well as trainers lecturers and other who are involved in horticulture sector using structured instrument validated from previous pilot study A total of 64 individuals were selected Respondents recorded transcribed and verified the interview data for the research The data was subsequently analyzed using NVIVO12 analytic software which resulted in the establishment of data driven prominent themes and in inclusion of important themes while the survey data from the spreadsheet was in conversion model to provide statistical data As a result agricultural farm leftovers are produced in significant numbers each year The most frequent crop farm wastes are stems and leaves although roots may also be discovered in tomato fields The bulk of tomato crop residue is allowed in fields to decay naturally while some are kept for mulch and animal feed The study s findings indicated that farmers make no more money no matter what they do with tomato crop farm leftovers Composting can generate some income for them but it is not done properly The major reasons for tomato crop farm leftovers not being turned into other valuable crop based goods include farmers lack of knowledge and skills in tomato crop value addition as well as a lack of farmer academia collaboration The technical requirements revealed in the results are mentorship and training in value addition particularly in tomato residue value added as well as training of trainers in modern farming however compost manufacturing value chain development modern farming technologies post harvest technology and handling and value addition are the most important for tomato farmers These findings fuelled the development of several options but the construction of a farmer field school for composting tomato crop farm leftovers was the most conservative safe and risk averse option as an agribusiness model for collaboration
