Mega events represent an important moment in the life of a city providing a useful lens through which we may analyse their cultural social political and economic development In the wake of the International Olympic Committee's IOC's concerns about gigantism and wider public concerns about rising costs it was imperative in the C21st to demonstrate the long term benefits that arose for the city and nations from hosting premier sporting events London 2012 was the first to integrate the concept of legacy from the moment a bid to host the Olympic and Paralympic Games was being considered London proposed an ambitious programme of urban renewal for East London Subsequent host city bids have adopted the legacy narrative and as this book demonstrates aligned this to major schemes of urban development and renewal Bringing together scholars practitioners and policy makers this book focuses upon the legacies sought by cities that host major sports events It analyses how governments the IOC and others define and measure legacy It also focuses upon the challenges and opportunities facing future host cities of mega events looking at their aspirations and the intended impact upon their domestic and international development It questions what the global shift in geographical location of mega events means for sports development and the business of sport what the attractions are for cities seeking to harness the hosting of a mega event and whether there may be longer term consequences for the bidding and hosting major sporting events in the wake of the widespread social unrest that accompanied the preparations in Brazil for hosting the FIFA World Cup 2014 and the summer Olympics 2016 and in Turkey where there was significant opposition to bid for the 2020 summer Olympiad

Bernard Tschumi, 2005-04-01 How concept context and content interact in architecture provocative examples from recent projects by Bernard Tschumi In Event Cities 3 Bernard Tschumi explores the complex and productive triangulation of architectural concept context and content There is no architecture without a concept an overriding idea that gives coherence and identity to a building But there is also no architecture without context historical geographical cultural or content what happens inside Concept context and content may be in unison or purposely discordant Against the contextualist movement of the 1980s and 1990s which called for architecture to blend in with its surroundings Tschumi argues that buildings may or may not conform to their settings but that the decision should always be strategic Through documentation of recent projects including the new Acropolis Museum in Athens a campus athletic center in Cincinnati museums in Sao Paulo New York and Antwerp concert halls in France and a speculative urban project in Beijing Tschumi examines different ways that concept context and content relate to each other in his work In the new Acropolis Museum for example Tschumi looks at the interaction of the concept a simple and precise museum with the clarity of ancient Greek buildings with the context its location at the base of the Acropolis 800 feet from the Parthenon and the content which incorporates archaeological excavations on the building site into the fabric of the museum Through provocative examples Tschumi demonstrates that the relationship of concept context and content may be one of indifference reciprocity or conflict all of which he argues are valid architectural approaches Above all he suggests that the activity of architecture is less about the making of forms than the investigation and materialization of concepts Event-Cities 2 Bernard Tschumi,2001-01-16 The sequel to Bernard Tschumi's best selling Event Cities documenting his recent architectural projects and updating his thoughts on architectures and cities In Event Cities MIT Press 1994 Bernard Tschumi expanded his architectural concerns to address the issue of cities and their making Event Cities 2 continues this project through new selections from his recent architectural projects The book includes the first comprehensive documentation of the drawings for the award winning Parc de la Villette including many previously unpublished drawings his project for the expansion of the Museum of Modern Art two architectural schools a concert and exhibition hall a student center a railway station a department store and other urban projects Tschumi suggests that architecture can accelerate the events of everyday life through new forms of organization Using various modes of notation ranging from rough models to sophisticated computer generated images he reveals the complexities of the architectural process and the rich texture of events that define urban reality today Mega-Events and Legacies in Post-Metropolitan Spaces Stefano Di Vita,Corinna Morandi,2017-11-29 This book offers new perspectives through which to observe and interpret mega events Using the specific case studies of World's Fairs Di Vita and Morandi present a report of the Milan Expo 2015 and its trans scalar legacies While the event and post event have been affected by the world crisis the locations of exhibition areas have greatly expanded encompassing regional as well as post metropolitan spaces The two main aims of comparing Milan to previous expos such as Lisbon 1998 Zaragoza 2008 and Shanghai 2010 were to demonstrate the contribution of the 2015 World's Fair to the urban innovation process and to the debate surrounding a new urban agenda as well as to examine empirically and theoretically the international discussion regarding the growth of regional and macro regional scales of contemporary cities in order to offer suggestions for future urban agendas through mega events This book will be of great value to students researchers and policy makers in the area of urban planning and the urban studies more broadly geography and spatial politics Event-cities Bernard Tschumi,1994 Lausanne EPFL Extension 1993 solids and Voids Reversal p 487 499 Proceedings of the SSEME Workshop on Economics and Management (SSEME-EM 2024) Ramayah Thurasamy,2024-09-26 This is an open access book As an interdisciplinary academic conference SSEME showcases high quality keynote speeches oral and poster presentations of refereed papers It highlights in hot research fields in social sciences economics management and education and aims to foster the exchange of research advances addressing emerging challenges in the frontlines of scientific researches and practices SSEME warmly welcomes new insights from both industry and academia on both basic and applied researches 2024 the 2nd International Conference on Social Sciences Economics Management and Education SSEME 2024 will be held during July 15 17 2024 in Qingdao Chinaonline during July 15 16 2024

Planning and Managing Smaller

Events Stefano Di Vita,Mark Wilson,2020-09-24 Planning and Managing Smaller Events Downsizing the Urban Spectacle explores the role of smaller scale events in contributing to the renewal and development of urban societies This book adopts a case study approach to examine a diverse range of events taking place in towns and cities in Europe Asia and North America This volume begins by defining and classifying these kinds of events and then verifying if and how they can provide opportunities for cities and towns without the disadvantages of world famous large events It concludes by discussing the growing regional scale of urban phenomena and their transition in post metropolitan spaces Planning and Managing Smaller Events Downsizing the Urban Spectacle will be of interest to government officials and policy makers involved in economic development urban planning parks arts culture as well as students and researchers interested in urbanism event management tourism and recreation

Event-Cities 5 Bernard Tschumi,2024-11-12 An essential resource on the work of Bernard Tschumi Architects with a focus on how concept context and program intersect with intuition in singular and unexpected ways Event Cities 5 is the fifth and final volume in the MIT Press series documenting recent built and unbuilt projects by renowned architect Bernard Tschumi This volume expands on the theoretical preoccupations that have shaped Tschumi s work in practice and pedagogy In this volume Tschumi embarks on what he calls a poetics that addresses both the rational elaboration of work and the irrational eruption of inexplicable elements in architectural projects How do chance intuition and analogy among other elements intersect with the logical play of concept context and program to generate innovative and informed design Highlights of this volume include circular building projects works with suspended gardens and floating rectangular masses superposed structures created via surrealist tactics an immense educational research complex in France that hovers between building and urban design a museum in China made from intersecting conic shapes and a project for a cultural center in Italy that is structured as an investigation into courtyards and facades The book features nearly 30 projects developed over the last fifteen years and highlights Tschumi s longstanding interest not only in producing conceptual clarity but in questioning architecture itself

Urban Resilience to Droughts and Floods Cecilia

Tortajada,James Horne,Larry Harrington,2020-05-21 This book focuses on policies and governance on how to build the resilience of cities to droughts and floods in the short medium and long term There are discussions on how cities prepare for cope with learn from manage and recover from these extreme events The chapters also consider aspects such as changing paradigms policy responses under uncertainty scenario development institutional responses adaptive forecasting governance perspectives infrastructure development overall investments and technological innovation The Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction are discussed at length. Most of the cities and regions studied are in Asia, however cities from Oceania, Europe, Africa and North America are also included. Analyses are not limited to cities but to the basins and regions from which urban populations obtain their resources and on which their resilience depends. This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development.

Paradigm Islands Teresa Stoppani, 2011. A critical look at the making of Manhattan and Venice provides a background to addressing the dynamic redefinition and making of space today. The book concerns architecture and the city built imagined and narrated but importantly considers architecture as an intellectual and spatial process rather than a product.

Mega-event Cities: Urban Legacies of Global Sports Events Valerie Viehoff, Gavin Poynter, 2016-03-02. Mega events represent an important moment in the life of a city, providing a useful lens through which we may analyse their cultural, social, political and economic development. In the wake of the International Olympic Committee's IOC's concerns about gigantism and wider public concerns about rising costs, it was imperative in the C21st to demonstrate the long term benefits that arose for the city and nations from hosting premier sporting events. London 2012 was the first to integrate the concept of legacy from the moment a bid to host the Olympic and Paralympic Games was being considered. London proposed an ambitious programme of urban renewal for East London. Subsequent host city bids have adopted the legacy narrative and as this book demonstrates, aligned this to major schemes of urban development and renewal. Bringing together scholars, practitioners and policy makers, this book focuses upon the legacies sought by cities that host major sports events. It analyses how governments, the IOC and others define and measure legacy. It also focuses upon the challenges and opportunities facing future host cities of mega events, looking at their aspirations and the intended impact upon their domestic and international development. It questions what the global shift in geographical location of mega events means for sports development and the business of sport, what the attractions are for cities seeking to harness the hosting of a mega event and whether there may be longer term consequences for the bidding and hosting major sporting events in the wake of the widespread social unrest that accompanied the preparations in Brazil for hosting the FIFA World Cup 2014 and the summer Olympics 2016 and in Turkey where there was significant opposition to bid for the 2020 summer Olympiad.
