While the middle and upper classes were espousing conservative literary tastes and attending family matinees and operas laborers were reading dime novels and watching downtown spectacle melodramas like Nymphs of the Red Sea and The Pirate's Signal or The Bridge of Death. As audiences traveled from the reading parlor to the playhouse and back again they accumulated a vital sense of social place in the new nation. In other words culture made class in 19th century America. Based in the historical archive Staged Readings presents a panoramic display of mid century leisure and entertainment. It examines best selling novels such as Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin and George Lippard's The Quaker City. But it also analyzes a series of sensational melodramas, parlor theatricals, doomsday speeches, tableaux vivant displays, curiosity museum exhibits and fake volcano explosions. These oft overlooked spectacles capitalized on consumers' previous cultural encounters and directed their social identifications. The book will be particularly appealing to those interested in histories of popular theater, literature and reading, social class and mass culture.
