anthropologically based theory of mind that emphasizes the mind's collective nature Drawing on Wittgenstein he maintains that mental acts are properly attributed to the person not the brain and that states of mind far from being detached from the world require a historical and cultural context for their very intelligibility Available in English for the first time this is the most outstanding work of one of France's finest contemporary philosophers It provides a much needed link between the continental and Anglo American traditions and its impact will extend beyond philosophy to anthropology psychology critical theory and French studies
