Missing Numbers Up To 100000:

Flood Damage Survey and Assessment Daniela Molinari, Scira Menoni, Francesco Ballio, 2017-06-28 Floods can have a devastating impact on life property and economic resources. However, the systematic collection of damage data in the aftermath of flood events can contribute to future risk mitigation. Such data can support a variety of actions including the identification of priorities for intervention during emergencies, the creation of complete event scenarios to tailor risk mitigation strategies, the definition of victim compensation schemes, and the validation of damage models to feed cost benefit analysis of mitigation actions. Volume highlights include Compilation of real world case studies elaborating on the survey experiences and best practices associated with flood damage data collection, storage and analysis that can help strategize flood risk mitigation in an efficient manner. Coverage of different flooding phenomena such as riverine and mountain floods, spatial analysis from local to global scales and stakeholder perspectives e.g. public decision makers, researchers, private companies. Contributions from leading experts in the field researchers and practitioners including civil protection actors working at different spatial and administrative level insurers and professionals working in the field of natural hazard risks mitigation.

Flood Damage Survey and Assessment: New Insights from Research and Practice will be a valuable resource for earth scientists, hydrologists, meteorologists, geologists, geographers, civil engineers, insurers, policy makers, and planners. It helps readers understand the evolution of compulsory education policy and its effects on access to schooling for migrant children and clearly illustrates this policy's implications for social citizenship.
