Racialization, Islamophobia and Mistaken Identity Jagbir Jhutti-Johal, Hardeep Singh, 2019-08-16 Exploring the issue of Islamophobic attacks against Sikhs since 9/11 this book explains the historical religious and legal foundations and frameworks for understanding race hate crime against the Sikh community in the UK. Focusing on the backlash that Sikhs in the UK have faced since 9/11 the authors provide a theological and historical backdrop to Sikh identity in the global context critically analysing the occurrences of Islamophobia since 9/11 and most recently post Brexit and how British Sikhs and the British government have responded and reacted to these incidents. The experiences of American Sikhs are also explored and the impact of anti-Sikh sentiment upon both these communities is considered. Drawing on media reporting government policies the emerging body of interdisciplinary scholarship and empirical research this book contributes to the currently limited body of literature on anti-Sikh hate crime and produces ideas for policy makers on how to rectify the situation. Providing a better understanding of perceptions of anti-Sikh sentiment and its impact this book will be of interest to scholars and upper level students working on identity and hate crime and more generally in the fields of Religion and Politics Cultural Studies Media Studies and International Studies

Horn Book Magazine starred review In the spring of 1992 after a jury returned not guilty verdicts in the trial of four police officers charged in the brutal beating of a Black man Rodney King Los Angeles was torn apart. Thousands of fires were set causing more than a billion dollars in damage. In neighborhoods abandoned by the police, protestors, and storeowners exchanged gunfire. More than 12 000 people were arrested and 2 400 injured. Sixty-three died. In Rising from the Ashes award-winning author Paula Yoo draws on the experience of the city's Korean American community to narrate and illuminate this uprising from the racism that created economically disadvantaged neighborhoods torn by drugs and gang-related violence to the tensions between the city's minority communities. At its heart are the stories of three lives and three families those of Rodney King, Latasha Harlins a Black teenager shot and killed by a Korean American storeowner and Edward Jae Song Lee a Korean American man killed in the unrest. Woven throughout and set against a minute-by-minute account of the uprising are the voices of dozens others police officers, firefighters, journalists, business owners, and activists whose recollections give texture and perspective to the events of those five days in 1992 and their impact over the years that followed
