Antioxidant-Antidiabetic Agents and Human Health Oluwafemi Oguntibeju, 2014-02-05 The human system employs the use of endogenous enzymatic as well as non enzymatic antioxidant defence systems against the onslaught of free radicals and oxidative stress Enzymatic antioxidants and non enzymatic antioxidants work synergistically with each other using different mechanisms against different free radicals and stages of oxidative stress Dietary and lifestyle modifications are seen as the mainstay of treatment and management of chronic diseases such as diabetes mellitus The major aims of dietary and lifestyle changes are to reduce weight improve glycaemic control and reduce the risk of coronary heart disease which accounts for 70-80% of deaths among those with diabetes It is also important to note that medicinal plants have been used as medicines since ancient time and continue to play significant role even in modern medicine in management and treatment of chronic diseases Impressive numbers of modern therapeutic agents have been developed from plants Phytochemicals have been isolated and characterised from fruits such as grapes and apples vegetables such as broccoli and onion spices such as turmeric beverages such as green tea and red wine as well as many other sources The WHO estimates that approximately 80% of the worlds inhabitants rely on traditional medicine for their primary health care and many medicinal plants have ethno medical claims of usefulness in the treatment of diabetes and other chronic diseases globally and have been employed empirically in antidiabetic antihyperlipidemic antihypertensive antiinflammatory and antiparasitic remedies This book examines the role of antioxidant rich natural products in management and treatment of diabetes and other chronic diseases

Defining Sustainable Development for Our Common Future Iris Borowy, 2013-12-04 The UN World Commission on Environment and Development chaired by former Norwegian Prime Minister Gro Harlem Brundtland alerted the world to the urgency of making progress toward economic development that could be sustained without depleting natural resources or harming the environment Written by an international group of politicians civil servants and experts on the environment and development the Brundtland Report changed sustainable development from a physical notion to one based on social economic and environmental issues This book positions the Brundtland Commission as a key event within a longer series of international reactions to pressing problems of global poverty and environmental degradation It shows that its report Our Common Future published in 1987 covered much more than its definition of sustainable development as development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs for which it became best known It also addressed a long list of issues which remain unresolved today The book explores how the work of the Commission juggled contradictory expectations and world views which existed within the Commission and beyond and drew on the concept of sustainable development as a way to reconcile profound differences The result was both an immense success and disappointment Coining an irresistibly simple definition enabled the Brundtland Commission to place sustainability firmly on the international agenda This definition gained acceptability for a potentially divisive concept but it also diverted attention from underlying demands for fundamental political and social changes Meanwhile the central message of the Commission the need to make inconvenient sustainability considerations a part of global politics as much as of everyday life has been side lined The book thus assesses to what extent the Brundtland Commission represented an immense step forward or a missed opportunity White Paper on Science and Technology ,2015 Acta Theriologica ,2013 Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,2013 Bulletin of the National Museum of Nature and Science ,2017-02 Science John Michels (Journalist),2012 Yonsei Medical Journal ,2013 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Scientific American ,1884 Journal of Karnatak University Karnatak University,2011 Canadian Journal of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences ,2014 Dairy Pipeline ,2012 Rural America in a Globalizing World Conner Bailey,Leif Jensen,Elizabeth Ransom,2014 This fourth Rural Sociological Society decennial volume provides advanced policy scholarship on rural North America during the 2010 s closely reflecting upon the increasingly global nature of social cultural and economic forces and the impact of neoliberal ideology upon policy politics and power in rural areas The chapters in this volume represent the expertise of an influential group of scholars in rural sociology and related social sciences Its five sections address the changing structure of North American agriculture natural resources and the environment demographics diversity and quality of life in rural communities Marine & Freshwater Research ,2015 School Science and Mathematics ,1922

Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Life Science Paper 1 September 2012 : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Life Science Paper 1 September 2012 : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Life Science Paper 1 September 2012 : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
