Life Sciences and Space Research P. H. A. Sneath, 2013-10-22 Life Sciences and Space Research Volume XII documents the proceedings of the Life Sciences sessions of the 16th Plenary Meeting of the Committee on Space Research COSPAR held in Konstanz in May and June 1973. This compilation includes several studies on the biological effects of radiation produced by particles of very high energy including the kind of cellular damage these particles cause and the technique for recording particle tracks in relation to biological objects. The effects of weightlessness upon developmental processes in biology and the interaction between weightlessness and other effects of space flight are also deliberated. This book likewise provides a brief discussion on the field of planetary quarantine implying that all the planets should be protected from unwise contamination. This publication is valuable to students and researchers conducting work on exobiology, radiation biology, gravitational biology or planetary quarantine.

Bulletin, 1944      Grade 11 High School Proficiency Test, 1992      Toxic War Peter Sills, 2014-02-15 The war in Vietnam spanning more than twenty years was one of the most divisive conflicts ever to envelop the United States and its complexity and consequences did not end with the fall of Saigon in 1975. As Peter Sills demonstrates in Toxic War veterans faced a new enemy beyond post traumatic stress disorder or debilitating battle injuries. Many of them faced a new more pernicious slow killing enemy the cancerous effects of Agent Orange. Originally introduced by Dow and other chemical companies as a herbicide in the United States and adopted by the military as a method of deforesting the war zone of Vietnam in order to deny the enemy cover. Agent Orange also found its way into the systems of numerous active duty soldiers. Sills argues that manufacturers understood the dangers of this compound and did nothing to protect American soldiers. Toxic War takes the reader behind the scenes into the halls of political power and industry where the debates about the use of Agent Orange and its potential side effects raged. In the end the only way these veterans could seek justice was in the court of law and public opinion. Unprecedented in its access to legal medical and government documentation as well as to the personal testimonies of veterans Toxic War endeavors to explore all sides of this epic battle.

Space Research XXIV(2) COSPAR. Plenary Meeting, G. Kraft, 1992 The fifty seven papers presented in this volume give a complete overview of the knowledge to date in radiation biology. The accessibility of the unique radiation environment in space and the increasing involvement of human beings in space missions have initiated substantial research activities in the various fields of space radiation biology dealing with radiation detection and measurement, biological mechanisms of the hard component of cosmic radiation, impact of space environment on radiobiological processes and also radiation protection issues. Besides offering opportunities for radiobiological experiments in space the current space exploration programme even requires the collection of radiobiological data in space and at accelerators as baseline information for estimating radiation risks to humans on future space missions and for establishing radiation standards for manned spaceflight. Life Sciences and Space Research XXV(4) COSPAR. Plenary Meeting, 1994 These proceedings contain 56 papers that cover such topics as extraterrestrial organic chemistry and the origins of life, life on Mars, planetary protection for Mars missions and chemical evolution on Titan.
