

Chapter 10: Climate Change

Introduction

The term 'climate' refers to the long-term average weather conditions of a place. Climate change refers to the long-term changes in the climate of a region. These changes are usually caused by human activities, which release greenhouse gases into the atmosphere. These gases trap heat and cause the Earth's temperature to rise. This leads to various changes in the environment, such as melting ice caps, rising sea levels, and changes in weather patterns. Climate change is a global issue that requires collective action to address.
