My Erotic Obsession:

Autobiography John Cowper Powys,2013-12-19 I have tried to write my life as if I were confessing to a priest a philosopher and a wise old woman I have tried to write as if I were going to be executed when it was finished I have tried to write it as if I were both God and Devil One is tempted to say only John Cowper Powys could have written that and beyond doubt only John Cowper Powys could have written the idiosyncratic and spellbinding work we have here Yes he was influenced by Yeats and Rousseau especially the latter s Confessions but there is no other work quite like this It seems almost too pedestrian to say it covers the first sixty years of his life he lived for another thirty years and to say anything about them as J B Priestley memorably put it would be like turning on a tap before introducing people to Niagara Falls J B Priestley also said It is a book which can be read with pleasure and profit over and over again It is in fact one of the greatest autobiographies in the English language Even if Powys had never written any novels this one book alone would have proved him to be a writer of genius

Gone with the Mind Mark Leyner,2015-06-09 The blazingly inventive fictional autobiography of Mark Leyner one of America s rare true original voices Gary Shteyngart Dizzily brilliant raucously funny and painfully honest Gone with the Mind is the story of Mark Leyner s life told as only Mark Leyner can tell it In this utterly unconventional novel or is it a memoir Leyner gives a reading in the food court of a New Jersey shopping mall The audience consists of Mark s mother and some stray Panda Express employees who ask a handful of questions The action takes place entirely at the food court but the territory covered in these pages has no bounds A joyride of autobiography cultural critique DIY philosophy biopolitics video games demagoguery and the most intimate confessions Gone with the Mind is both a soulful reckoning with mortality and the tender story of the relationship between a complicated mother and an even more complicated son At once nostalgic and acidic deeply humane and completely surreal Gone with the Mind is a work of pure hilarious genius

Fetishes Grand Street,1995 Food Brigid Allen,1994 Food is a basic requirement of daily life more essential and some would say more comforting than religion love or sex The emotional and social resonances connected with food have long been explored by writers in novels and poetry drama and biography diaries and letters and this anthology brings together a splendid cornucopia of comment and opinion Attitudes to food are as various as food itself Montaigne adored fish but disliked fruit and salad while the German philosopher Kant loved pulses and pork fat The discovery of new foods occasions much interest and the pineapple excites a succulent description by a visitor to Barbados in theseventeenth century Through the use of printed and unpublished manuscript sources Brigid Allen provides a fascinating history of the eating habits of families and individuals how and where they shopped methods of cooking and cooking utensils what time they ate and even what name they gave their meals Dining in and dining out are both addressed and the experience of travellers abroad entertainingly chronicled Enforced or voluntary food deprivation is also examined in a section that considers the effects of war famine and poverty as well as the regimes of prisons and schools and the dubious attractions of dieting From royal banquets to household accounts from the Bible to Thomas Wolfe from the diary of a castaway to instructions for dairy maids this appetizing collection will appeal to anyone with an interest in food Whatever your taste Food will provide lasting nourishment

DESCENTS OF MEMORY Morine Krissdottir,2007-09-06 John Cowper Powys s works have been described as the only novels produced by an English writer that can fairly be compared to the fictions of Tolstoy and Dostoevsky with an immensity to which only Blake could provide a parallel in English literature George Steiner The New Yorker His talents were manifested by such books as his Autobiography Wolf Solent Weymouth Sands and A Glastonbury Romance In this Powys's first comprehensive biography eminent scholar Morine Krissdottir delves into the life of the writer from his childhood in Derbyshire through his celebrated lecture tours through England and the US from his life's loves to his relationship with his own writing Krissdottir demonstrates that Powys known as much for his essays letters poetry and philosophy as he was for his fiction was a man whose writing had a scope matched only by the breadth of his life Using primary sources never before seen archival materials including photos and Powys's own writings Krissdottir pieces together this life in a way that will be impossible to forget

The Salt

Companion to Lee Harwood Robert Sheppard, 2007 This is the first book to offer a comprehensive overview of the work of important British poet Lee Harwood from his earliest writing as a follower of French Surrealism and New York poetry when he was a leading light of the Underground poetry of the 1960s through to his long work The Long Black Veil and his major work since It examines his work in terms of influence poetics gender sexuality eco politics as well as evidence of the spatial turn in contemporary culture It also assesses his work in prose The writers are drawn from a wide range of literary backgrounds and approaches but the editor draws these together in his introduction which is followed by his own account of the story of Harwood's development as well as the text of an unpublished interview with him. The book contains a useful bibliography of Harwood's work. More generally, it demonstrates how various schools of criticism may be used to illuminate a single topic and how these may be compared. The writers include some of the major critics of British alternative poetry as well as some newcomers who offer a fresh view of this much loved work. Facing the Music Eamon Grennan, 1999. Himself an Irish poet and critic Grennan English Vassar College begins with Yeats then goes on to discuss such diverse poets as Kavanagh, Muldoon, Kinsella and McGuckian. He also looks at poetry in the work of James Joyce and John McGahern. Most of the 34 essays have been published in journals. They are not indexed. Distributed by Fordham U Press. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR. Cosmos ; And, Pornografia Witold Gombrowicz, 1985. Here are two major works by the famed Polish novelist and dramatist Witold Gombrowicz. The first Cosmos a metaphysical thriller revolves around an absurd investigation. It is set in provincial Poland and narrated by a seedy, pathetic and witty student who is charming and appalling by turns and whose voice is dense with the richly palpable description that characterizes Gombrowicz's writing. The second Pornografia explores the sinister effect the young can have on the old. To serve their own secret eroticism two aging intellectuals encourage a young couple to commit murder. Although the adolescents are the weapons used to commit the crime the four become conspirators before the deed is done.
