Religion and Human Rights Hans-Georg Ziebertz, Gordan Črpić, 2015-01-13 This book examines the relationship between human rights and religiosity. It discusses whether the impact of religiosity on human rights is liberational or suppressive and sheds light on the direction in which the relationship between religion and human rights is expected to develop. The questions explored in this volume are: Which are the rights that are currently debated or under pressure? What is the position on human rights that churches and religious communities represent? Are there tensions between churches, religious communities and the state? Which rights are especially relevant for young people and which relate to adolescents' life world experiences? Covering 17 countries, the book describes two separate yet connected studies. The first study presents research by experts from individual countries describing the state of human rights and neuralgic points anticipated in individual societies. The other study presents specific findings on the relationship between these two social phenomena from empirical research in a population of high school students. Studying this particular population allows insights into social trends, value systems and attitudes on human rights as well as an indication of the likely directions of development and potential room for intervention.

Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-04-09 Ugandan English Christiane Meierkord, Bebwā Isingoma, Saudah Namyalo, 2016-10-20 Ugandan English is a variety that has scarcely been noticed in past research. This timely volume brings together African and European scholars in a first ever collection of articles that offer comprehensive discussions of the historical and present day sociolinguistics of English in Uganda and fine grained analyses of the structural characteristics of and attitudes to this hitherto largely unknown variety. Using rich archive corpus and interview data as well as ethnographic and observational methods, the various contributions paint a comprehensive picture of Ugandan English as distinct from other East African Englishes and as characterized by nativisation despite a still strong exonormative orientation reflecting the modern nation's status as a post protectorate under the influence of globalisation. Apart from advancing our understanding of Ugandan English itself, the individual chapters contribute to theoretical debates on language contact and variation as regards the influence of substrate languages, founder populations, language ideologies and socio-economic factors.

Power and Resistance Wayne Antony, Jessica Antony, Les Samuelson, 2020-05-06T00:00:00Z How do we make sense of the social problems that continue to plague Canadian society? Our understanding of issues such as poverty, racism, violence, homophobia, crime and pollution stems from our view of how society is structured. From the dominant neoliberal perspective, social problems arise from individuals making poor choices. From a critical perspective, however, these social troubles are caused by structural social inequalities. Disparities in economic, social and political power that are relations of power based on class, race, gender and sexual orientation are the central structural element of capitalist patriarchal colonialist societies. The contributors to Power and Resistance use this critical perspective to explore Canadian social issues such as poverty, colonialism, homophobia, violence against women, climate change and so on. This sixth edition adds chapters on the corporatization of higher education the lethal impacts of colonialism democracy the social determinants of health drug policy and sexual violence on campus Wrongful Convictions in China Na Jiang,2016-08-08 The primary focus of this comparative and empirical work is to address wrongful convictions between China and common law countries in order to promote a better understanding of wrongful convictions in China s practice with the help of comparative analyses verifiable and empirical data and case studies It examines the scope of wrongful convictions and offers new insights into the worldwide movement to prevent them assesses how far it has progressed and what reforms are most needed The book suggests that adversarial and inquisitorial systems alike could benefit from this research and learn valuable lessons from one another on how to effectively reduce the risk of wrongful convictions Transactions of the Engineering Institute of Canada Engineering Institute of Canada,1919 Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2016 United States.
