Monthly Bulletin, 1943 Library Journal, 1997 The Black Columbiad Werner Sollors, Maria Diedrich, 1994 After a long and painful transatlantic passage African captives reached a continent they hadn't even known existed where they were treated in ways that broke every law of civilization as they understood it. This was the discovery of America for a good number of our ancestors one quite different from the paradise Columbus heralded but no less instrumental in shaping the country's history. What finding the New World meant to those who never sought it and how they made the hostile unfamiliar continent their own is the subject of this volume the first truly international collection of essays on African American literature and culture. Distinguished scholars critics and writers from around the world gather here to examine a great variety of moments that have defined the African American experience.
