Remember to keep your original and recent owners manual in a safe place for future reference.

INFORMATION Playing bass frequencies in an automobile can permanently damage your hearing as well as damage your vehicle's power amplifier. After reproducing bass frequencies for extended periods of time, a power amplifier will overheat and damage itself. infinity recommends that you use a power amplifier with a low-pass filter to prevent bass frequencies from reaching your ears or damaging your vehicle.

POWER-CAUSING BASS PRE-PRODUCTION Disregarding car door insulation, windows of power vehicles and the dimensions of the passenger compartment and cargo areas, reproduced frequencies below 100Hz may be responsible for nearly 10dB increase in the power requirements. These effects, known as the "vibration factor" or "vibration factor of a "solid point", produce self-reinforced power in causing other overall increase of the speaker.

BassLink is designed to reproduce frequencies between 100 and 200Hz, but there may be other frequencies in your vehicle that reproduce some of these lower frequencies. It is important that all the speakers work together to reproduce frequencies they share. Disregarding car door insulation or the speaker, the BassLink and the other speaker, may be "out of phase" or "out of sync". This causes a loss of bass frequencies, and may affect bass response and crossover performance, also plays a role in shaping the frequency response of your system.

Remember, BassLink has controls that may be adjusted to minimize both of these conditions. Successful installation will include "tuning" these adjustments; this process is detailed in a subsequent section of this manual.

INSTALLATION

CHOOSEING A MOUNTING LOCATION

Choose a location that doesn't interfere with the BassLink or mounting of the speaker. Hold BassLink over dashboard or center console. Hold BassLink over front or rear floor or trunk. If the front or rear floor or trunk is lower than the dashboard or center console, the BassLink must be mounted through the front or rear floor or trunk compartment. These locations, in addition to being out of the way, are often the best locations for mounting. If the front or rear floor or trunk is higher than the dashboard or center console, the BassLink must be mounted with the radio separation of the vehicle.

Other you've chosen a mounting location and made the necessary electrical connections, you may be ready to mount BassLink. If you are mounting BassLink inside the front or rear floor or trunk (not the passenger compartment), caution! Make sure mounting recessed well past punchout seating. Otherwise, speaker or floor trim, or other vehicle's parts, (sooner or later) may be located behind or under the mounting surface.

INSTALLING BASSLINK

Note: At most three BassLink should be installed in the front or rear of the mounting board to facilitate the placement of the front or BassLink. Choose the floor so that the speaker must be deeper than the center panel. The center panel permits more space for mounting through the front or rear floor or trunk panel. Do not mount on other parts of the vehicle or floor or trunk panel. (See Figures 1 and 2 for details.)

Horizontal Mounting: Strike the two vertical mounting feet over the bottom of BassLink until they rest into the indentations machined into the side and bottom of BassLink. The three side-mounted knobs should be facing up to allow adjustment when the unit is mounted. If the unit is mounted, turn the knobs provided through the side knobs until the mounting feet are tight against the mounting surface with locking screws. You will use four bolts to mount BassLink horizontally.

Vertical Mounting: Strike the two horizontal mounting feet over the sides of BassLink until they rest into the indentations machined into the side and bottom of BassLink. The three side-mounted knobs should be facing up to allow adjustment when the unit is mounted. If the unit is mounted, turn the knobs provided through the side knobs until the mounting feet are tight against the mounting surface with locking screws. You will use four bolts to mount BassLink vertically.
