

MLA 8th Edition Documentation Style

1. Format of a Research Paper

Your word processor comes with default settings (margin, line height, paragraph spacing, and typeface) that will likely need adjustment. For MLA style, you need:

1.1. Margin: 1-inch margins on all four sides on an A-4 size paper

1.2. Text Formatting:

- 2.0 line height (i.e., double-spaced). Double space everything including the preliminary information, title, body text and quotations, and the works cited list.
- no extra spacing after paragraphs
- 12-point typeface (Times New Roman)

1.3. Heading and Title:

- You do not need a separate cover page for a research paper/term paper
- Flush to the left margin and type a) your name, b) Your instructor's name, c) Course code and course title, d) Date of submission
- Then write the title of your research paper. Put the title on the center margin. Do not bold or italicize or underline your title.

1.4. Page Numbers:

Toward a Recovery of Nineteenth Century Farming Handbooks

This paper aims to bring the nineteenth century farming handbooks into the agricultural literature discussion by connecting three agricultural handbooks from the nineteenth century with the nineteenth century agricultural history.

- Your instructor may ask you not to write the page number on the title/first page.
- A truly informative title will include the general topic, and your precise opinion on that topic. (So, if you plan to compare Hamlet and Macbeth, your title should state the unique point you want to make about Hamlet and Macbeth. Reuse part of your thesis statement.)

This handout presumes you already know why you should cite your sources (to establish your authority, to introduce persuasive evidence, to avoid plagiarism, etc.). The following instructions focus on how you format the page for proper documentation.

To fully cite a source requires two stages. The first happens in the body of your paper (the "In-text citation") and the second happens on a separate page at the end of your paper i.e. on the "Works Cited List".

The ESL Writer's Handbook, 2nd Ed. Janine Carlock, Maeve Eberhardt, Jaime Horst, Lionel Menasche, 2017-12-20 The ESL Writer s Handbook is a reference work for ESL students who are taking college level courses Because its purpose is to provide help with the broad variety of writing questions students may have when working on school assignments the text focuses on English for Academic Purposes Unlike other handbooks on the market this book s sole purpose is to address the issues of second language learners The spiral bound Handbook complements a student writer s dictionary thesaurus and grammar reference book It would be suitable as a text for an advanced ESL writing course when used together with the companion Workbook 978 0 472 03726 1 The new edition features significant revisions to Sections 3 and 4 in particular both APA and MLA style guides have been updated and new sample papers for each are included. The new edition includes new and revised exercises and many new samples of student writing. Like its predecessor the 2nd Edition has these special features. The topic selection is based on ESL writers' needs as observed by the authors over many years. The coverage of topics is more complete than the limited amount usually provided for ESL writers in first language or L1 handbooks. The explanatory language is appropriate for ESL students in contrast to the more complex and idiomatic language of other English handbooks. Many of the examples of paragraphs, essays, research papers, and exercise sentences were written by ESL students to help users realize that they too can become effective writers.
