TIPS

- Last name and page number ½" down from top of page and right aligned
- 'Works Cited' title is centered and 1" down from top of page
- Use a hanging indent for citations that are more than one line
- Include doi (or url) at the end of citation when referenced
- Place a period at the end of each citation
- Double space
- Do not add additional line space between entries
- 'Works Cited' page goes after the body of your research paper

Examples Of Citing Sources In Research Papers:

Quantitative and Applied Research Methodology in Economics Niranjana Devkota, Sushanta Kumar Mahapatra, 2025-06-06

This book is an illustrative and comprehensive guide designed to help readers understand and navigate the complex world of academic writing and research in economics. Written by experienced researchers, this book offers theoretical and practical insights into the research process. It provides an understanding of the foundations of the research process like research design, methodology, problem definition, data collection, and analysis among others. The authors also share insights into the process of preparing, proofreading, and publishing academic papers. With their experience in the field of academic research, in this book they provide practical examples and step-by-step guidance to assist in research-related issues. The section on how to prepare and publish academic papers is a must-read for students and early career researchers as it offers valuable guidance on how to succeed in the highly competitive world of academic publishing. With its clear and concise writing, this book will be an indispensable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate economics students, teachers, independent readers, and early career researchers as well as those seeking a deeper understanding of research methodology in economics.

Research Papers William Coyle, Joe Law, 2007. The first and still the best research workbook for students. Research Papers leads students through the step-by-step process of writing research papers from initial research to final proofreading. This unique spiral-bound manual gives students a wealth of examples as well as exercises that provide hands-on practice in the academic writing process. Up to the minute sections on documentation, plagiarism, and online research make Research Papers the most current resource available to today's students.

Information Literacy: Separating Fact from Fiction Sara Armstrong, Pamela Brunskill, 2017-09-01. People today live in a world of information overload. Each day information is shared from countless sources through numerous devices. Learning how to handle this onslaught of information has become a vital task for everyone. By the time they reach upper elementary school, most students are using smart phones, tablets, and computers to access social media, video, websites, online forums, wikis, blogs, and interactive digital games. Students need guidance on how to analyze online information sources critically, think about the content, and apply it to their decision making. This essential professional resource includes everything that teachers need to help students achieve digital literacy and includes activities and easy-to-use templates to support teachers as they teach the key skills of analyzing and understanding online information. This book consists of three sections: Finding Information, Analyzing Information, and Using Information. The topics covered include an introduction to information literacy, search techniques and strategies, asking and answering good questions, thinking visually, organizing information, online civic reasoning, analyzing online sources, using technology to teach project-based learning with technology. With the amount of online information sources increasing exponentially, this book will equip teachers with the tools they need to help their students become global citizens and 21st-century thinkers.
