McElroy, K., & Bridges, L. M. (2015). Access to information is (not) a universal right in higher education: Librarian ethics and advocacy. International Review of Information Ethics, 17(2), 33-46. <http://library.oregonstate.edu/McElroyKellyLibraryAccessInformationNot.pdf>

In accordance with the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) Code of Ethics for Librarians and Other Information Workers, access to information is a fundamental human right. Within a global context, this paper compares 16 countries, including the United States, highlighting barriers to achieving the basic right of equitable access to information. Published in 2015, the paper reveals stark differences in developing countries in terms of costs of access to information in higher education, scholarly publishing costs, and language. This article is short but provides a brief overview of global barriers to information access despite the declared fundamental human right to such access. The authors cited a few references. Both authors are associate professors at Oregon State University.

This book contains 282 original letters, song lyrics, casualty lists, transcripts of witness testimony, original newspaper accounts. It's a supplement to the anthology published in 128 volumes "The War of the Rebellion: A compilation of the Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies". The author is a historian-archaeologist. This book is an excellent source for primary documents and offers a fresh narrative of the civil war in the New Mexico territory. Many people think of the Civil War as a battle between the Union and the Confederacy. This book gives the Civil War history researcher a glimpse at the battles happening in the Southwest, as well.
