Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

Gray Matters Ellyn Lem, 2020-08-28 Gray Matters Finding Meaning in the Stories of Later Life examines films literature and art that focus on aging often made by people who are over sixty five These texts are analyzed alongside recent gerontology research and extensive commentary from interviews and surveys of seniors to show how stories illuminate the dynamics of growing old by blending fact with imagination giving a fuller picture of the aging process

The Post-Apocalyptic Novel in the Twenty-First Century H. Hicks, 2016-04-08 Since the beginning of the twenty first century major Anglophone authors have flocked to a literary form once considered lowbrow genre fiction the post apocalyptic novel Calling on her broad knowledge of the history of apocalyptic literature Hicks examines the most influential post apocalyptic novels written since the beginning of the new millennium including works by Margaret Atwood David Mitchell Cormac McCarthy Jeanette Winterson Colson Whitehead and Paolo Bacigalupi Situating her careful readings in relationship to the scholarship of a wide range of historians theorists and literary critics she argues that these texts use the post apocalyptic form to reevaluate modernity in the context of the new century s political economic and ecological challenges In the immediate wake of disaster the characters in these novels desperately scavenge the scraps of the modern world But what happens to modernity beyond these first moments of salvage In a period when postmodernism no longer defines cultural production Hicks convincingly demonstrates that these writers employ conventions of post apocalyptic genre fiction to reengage with key features of modernity from historical thinking and the institution of nationhood to rationality and the practices of literacy itself

Representing Poverty in the Anglophone Postcolonial World Verena Jain-Warden, Barbara Schmidt-Haberkamp, 2021-06-07 Originally a concern primarily of social studies and economics poverty has emerged as a significant thematic focus and analytical tool in literary and cultural studies in the last two decades The new poverty studies are dedicated to analyzing representations of poverty and the poor in literature and the visual arts in the news media and in social practices They aim at exploring the frameworks of representation that impact the affective and ethical responses of audiences to disenfranchised groups such as the poor The contributions to this volume focus on representations of poverty in the Anglophone postcolonial world exploring for example contemporary discourses on poverty in the UK filmic representations of Nairobi slums or the agency of the poor in literature from India Archean Granitoids of India: Windows into Early Earth Tectonics S.
