Money, Finance, and Capitalist Crisis Nobuharu Yokokawa, Costas Lapavitsas, 2022-05-11 Extraordinary growth of the financial relative to the nonfinancial sector has marked the development of mature capitalism during the last four decades The changing balance between the two sectors has altered the outlook of the economy and facilitated the spread of financial concerns practices and outlooks across society The result has been the gradual transformation of contemporary capitalism namely its financialization since the late 1970s There are similarities between the Marxian the Post Keynesian and other heterodox approaches to analyzing the profound changes in money and finance in the global economy since the 1980s Prominent among them is a common focus on financialization but also on the limits of monetary policy the transformation of banking the tendency to crisis related to financial excess and the problematic role of neoliberalism in finance Furthermore the complexity of the interrelationship between finance and the rest of the economy has increased since the great crisis of 2007 9 This book tackles several of these developments as well as engaging in debate among different currents of heterodox economics The chapters in this book were originally published in The Japanese Political Economy

Political Economy of Globalization: Financialization & Crises Mehak Anjum Siddiquei, Giorgi Benashvili, Hamza Şimşek, Sidar Atalay Şimşek, Berna Uymaz, Orhan Şimşek, Nalan Kangal, İlhan Eroğlu, Mustafa Necati Çoban, Kaan Yiğenoğlu, Nagehan Karanfil, Ümit İzmen, Barış Kocaarslan, Başak Ergüder, Ömer Yalçınkaya, Halil İbrahim Aydın, 2016-12-28 This edited book is a collection of selected papers presented at the International Conference of Political Economy ICOPEC 2016 The deliberate employment of the term political economy in the title International Conference of Political Economy implies the fact that economics is perceived as an integral part of social phenomena in the International Conference of Political Economy ICOPEC Accordingly even if economic institutions and relations form the foundations of society in the contemporary world economic development is dependent on social power and dynamics while economic policies per se are shaped by not only technical processes but also diverse interests and choices Within this context politics is involved in every encounter between different economic classes social groups and genders being shaped by the visions of a better life as the subject matter of philosophy ethics and religion and at times it finds its best expression in art Law on the other hand is the embodiment of all social relations which are in their essence political Thus this conference does not reduce society to market relations only despite positioning the economy in the heart of social relations Above all it considers the society as a political entity Indeed everything constitutes the subject matter of politics The arguments in favour of purifying market relations from the influence of politics and the discourse that they take place on their own right serve to disguise the conflicts of interest and power asymmetries inherent therein This conference regards man as homo politicus as Aristoteles put it rather than homo economicus In 2016 ICOPEC conferences were turned into a conference series with its 7th conference and the main theme of the 7th conference was determined as State Economic Policy Taxation and Development IJOPEC Publication has undertaken to publish selected papers presented at this conference in English and Turkish in five different edited books In the 90s the phenomena of globalization managed to dominate political popular and academic debates While reading a newspaper or a book watching television surfing the Internet or participating in a demonstration we come across the links of globalization in our everyday lives Globalization as a wide term is variously blamed or credited with a huge range of negative effects e g it is often related to social problems ranging from famine to floods from pollution to poverty and from rural depopulation to urban overcrowding On the contrary globalization can be also considered as the source of success in development for instance decrease in the poverty levels economic prosperity and growth better services and enhanced awareness of human rights Nevertheless some sceptics of the benefits from globalization have also described the potential ways in transforming political economic and social relations within and between countries This transformation may lead to the benefit of human welfare worldwide T small iriner Bryan Christiansen Julia Dobрева Introduction Political Economy of Globalization Financialization Stockhammer 2013 One key component is the magnificent growth of the financial sector Greenwood although to a softer scope similar processes can also be observed in other OECD countries Philippon Reshel 2013 The financial rise has its base in the deregulation and liberalization of the financial and economic system From this point of view financialization is the cause rather than the effect This is the major difference compared to the other approaches Financialization can affect the macro economy through four main channels These are income distribution investment in capital stock household debt and net exports and current account balances As a correction it is discussed that economic structures governed by financialization should be addressed on four dimensions a re regulation and reduction of the financial sector b redistribution of income from top to bottom and from capital to labour c re orientation of macroeconomic policies to stabilize domestic demand at non inflationary full employment levels and eventually d re creation of international monetary and economic policy coordination Financialisation and Financial Crisis in South-Eastern European Countries Dubravko Radošević, Vladimir Cvijanović, 2015 The book discusses various cases of financialisation and financial crisis in South Eastern Europe It represents not only the ex post analysis of how financial instability was created in a period of economic growth and how it could have been prevented but also provides insights for policy makers today Capitalizing on Crisis Greta R. Krippner, 2011-02-15 In the context of the recent financial crisis the extent to which the U S economy has become dependent on financial activities has been made abundantly clear In Capitalizing on Crisis Greta Krippner traces the longer term historical evolution that made the rise of finance possible arguing that this development rested on a broader transformation of the U S economy than is suggested by the current preoccupation with financial speculation Krippner argues that state policies that created conditions conducive to financialization allowed the state to avoid a series of economic social and political dilemmas that confronted policymakers as postwar prosperity stalled beginning in the late 1960s and 1970s In this regard the financialization of the economy was not a deliberate outcome sought by policymakers but rather an inadvertent result of the state s attempts to solve other problems The book focuses on deregulation of financial markets during the 1970s and 1980s encouragement of foreign capital into the U S economy in the context of large fiscal imbalances in the early 1980s and changes in monetary policy following the shift to high interest rates in 1979 Exhaustively researched the book brings extensive new empirical evidence to bear on debates regarding recent developments in financial markets and the broader turn to the market that has characterized U S society over the last several decades The Inexorable Evolution of Financialisation Domna M. Michailidou,2015-11-26 Since the 2007 financial crisis discussion on issues related to the size spread and frequency of financial crises has captivated a wide variety of audiences Why has the world economy experienced such a marked increase in financial transactions and private and public indebtedness since the 1980s How have middle income developing countries suddenly become a part of this dynamic And most importantly how has the topic of financial crises been featured in households daily discussions in both developed and developing parts of the world Domna Michailidou addresses the questions above through exploring the inexorable evolution of financialisation into financial crisis through the examination of three middle income countries Mexico Brazil and South Korea Concentrating on emerging economies and especially choosing three very different economies that all experienced financial crises in the 1990s this book explores what lessons can be learnt regarding financial fragility volatility and failure in the wake of capital market liberalisation Financialisation and the Financial and Economic Crises ,2015

The Fault Lines of Inequality Huw Macartney,Johnna Montgomerie,Daniela Tepe,2022-05-03 This book examines how decisions made by the Conservative government during the COVID19 pandemic have increased economic inequality in the UK Decades of austerity asset based welfare and financialization had already exacerbated social divisions in the UK prior to the pandemic The political blueprint behind these measures combined Privatized Keynesianism and the Asset Economy To explain economists have highlighted that inequality derives from the fact that income from wealth increases at a faster rate than income from wages The ensuing political assumption is that in the face of pressures on public finances promoting asset ownership is the best alternative to government funded welfare schemes What this meant as the pandemic unfolded was that when tough decisions about resource allocation needed to be made the UK Treasury and the Bank of England found almost unlimited funds to rescue and protect asset holders and middle income homeowners whilst reverting to a narrative of misfortune for the asset less poor This book assesses the political decisions taken by UK policymakers during 2020 21 and their consequences In doing so it challenges policymakers and the informed public to re consider the morality of inequality and to make alternative decisions to promote a more ecologically sustainable caring equal and prosperous society

Financialisation and Crisis in an Agent Based Macroeconomic Model Luca Riccetti,2019 In the present paper we analyse the role of dividends distributed by firms and banks highlighting the effects of their increase on financial instability and macroeconomic dynamics During the last decades the financialisation of nonfinancial corporations has been characterised by a shift from a retain and reinvest strategy to a downsize and distribute strategy We will investigate such a phenomenon by varying some of the model parameters so simulating firms and banks behaviours under alternative settings On the one hand more distributed dividends increases agents wealth and thus consumption may rise due to a wealth effect On the other hand increasing dividends reduce firms net worth that may result in a strong dependence of firms production on bank credit at the same time if also banks distribute more dividends then banks capital decreases and this may result in credit rationing As we will see financialisation through increasing dividends impacts financial in stability and income distribution with relevant consequences on macroeconomic dynamics
