The last and the present will always remember you with gratitude and admiration. The last words of the old man were:

10 of 10

- Reactive - the system reacts to external events
- Proactive - predicts future events
- Adaptive - the system can learn and adapt to changing circumstances
- Open - the system can receive new information and incorporate it into its decision-making process
- Closed - the system has pre-defined rules and cannot receive new information or adapt to changes

...and the labeled data.

The last and final step is to generate and evaluate the hypotheses using sufficient power and the group differences of interest.
