The Fast-track Course on how to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal Stephen Blake Mettee, 2002. The hard cold fact about getting a book published is that without something close to divine intervention, an author is going to have to write a sales piece called a book proposal that will attract the attention of an editor or an agent. In fact, at most publishers, this sales piece is going to have to hold up under the scrutiny of a committee made up of a bevy of editors and a pod of sales and marketing people. With The Fast Track Course on How to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal, Mettee, a seasoned book editor and publisher, cuts to the chase and provides simple, detailed instruction that allows anyone to write a professional book proposal and hear an editor say "Yes." According to Mettee, the first rule is "Do no harm." Too many authors don't pay enough attention to the small things like spelling and grammar and manuscript format that are needed to make their book proposals appear professional. They may have a great idea for a book and be eminently qualified to write it, but they schmuck it up with slovenly disregard for the easy stuff. The last rule is "Be persistent." If you quit after your first rejection slip or after the thirteenth or the thirtieth, you'll never get published. Many books that are rejected scores of times go on to be best sellers. You're not defeated until you give up.

How To Write a Paper George M. Hall, 2012-10-19. This concise paperback is one of the best known guides to writing a paper for publication in biomedical journals. Its straightforward format, a chapter covering each of part of the structured abstract, makes it relevant and easy to use for any novice paper writer. How to Write a Paper addresses the mechanics of submission, including electronic submission, and how publishers handle papers, writing letters to journals, abstracts for scientific meetings, and assessing papers. This new edition also covers how to write a book review and updated chapters on ethics electronic publication and submission and the movement for open access     The Fast-Track Course on How to Write a Nonfiction Book Proposal, 2nd Edition Stephen Blake Mettee, 2012 A step by step guide through the process of proposing a book to a publisher this straightforward and accessible work helps aspiring authors get their nonfiction work published quickly Packed with specific examples of proposals query letters publishing contracts and more this reference addresses the many questions authors have in this digital age Written by a seasoned editor and used in publishing classes at numerous universities the book is a proven tool for nonfiction book authors A glossary of key terms a list of selected books for further reading and a book proposal checklist are also included     2400 Business Books and Guide to Business Literature New Jersey.
