Evans, Lisa K. Scheer, 2002 Elgar Companion to Institutional and Evolutionary Economics: L-Z Geoffrey Martin Hodgson, Warren J. Samuels, Marc R. Tool, 1994 Bounded Rationality and Economic Evolution Clement Allan Tisdell, 1996 This seminal work advances beyond neoclassical economics to provide an integrated overview of the implications for economic decision making and the management of bounded rationality and its evolutionary consequences Professor Tisdell successfully combines recent developments in learning and game theory transaction costs and evolutionary economics to provide new insights into economic and managerial phenomena The results are applied to different levels of decision making including decisions by individuals taking into account learning possibilities decisions by groups and economic organizations including optimal communication within organizations Bounded Rationality and Economic Evolution will be of particular use to economists academics in management business administration and public administration and social scientists interested in group behaviour E-Governance in Africa, from Theory to Action Gianluca Fayazmanesh, Marc R. Tool, 1998 Institutional Economics and Economic Organisation Theory L. H. G. Slangen, Laura A.

Loucks, Arjen H. L. Slangen, 2008 This publication presents one of the first attempts to integrate two emerging bodies of economic research institutional economics and organizational theory It begins within the framework of neoclassical economics and then extends the boundaries of this framework to offer answers to questions that have so far remained puzzles in neoclassical economics The integrated approach of this publication also challenges the dominant paradigm in economics over the last 15 years that views the market as the best mechanism for carrying out transactions The market is not the only transaction mechanism other modes of organization are also important However this way of thinking does not involve a simple reintroduction of the confrontation between the government and the market On the contrary the integrated approach tries to open the blackbox of the role of institutions in daily life and the diversity of modes of organization Through this integrated approach the book hopes to contribute to a better insight to real world problems Dr Louis H G Slangen is Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics and Rural Policy at Wageningen University His teaching research and supervising MSc and PhD theses are in the field of resource economics economics of land use new institutional economics and economic organisation theory His publication record consists of about 30 articles in refereed journals 15 chapters in books and 10 books He has a long and extensive experience in various types of research projects for various Dutch Ministries and the European Union Dr Laura A Loucks is Senior Researcher and Lecturer in Institutional Economics and Organization Theory at Wageningen University Her research focuses on new and emerging institutions for sustainable fisheries management She has been a consultant to the Canadian Department of Fisheries and Oceans as well as the Dutch Ministry of Agriculture Nature and Food Quality Her research on fisheries co management agreements has been published in several books and in Marine Policy one of the leading journals on marine management issues Dr Arjen H L Slangen has been Assistant Professor of International Business at the Erasmus University Rotterdam and is currently Assistant Professor of International Strategy at the University of Amsterdam His research examines how national institutional environments influence the foreign entry strategies and performance of multinational enterprises He has published in leading international business and management journals such as the Journal of International Business Studies and the Journal of Management Studies

Economics, Evolution and the State Kurt Dopfer, 2005 This book focuses on the emerging field of evolutionary economic policy highlighting the interface between the state markets and the evolutionary complexity of modern economies The contributors explore the possibilities and limitations of governance and provide a unique platform for the advancement of modern evolutionary economic theory Decision making is discussed with particular reference to economic evolution as an open process self organization and networks the political economy of complexity Issues of evolutionary economic governance at various levels of aggregation are also examined Inspired by evolutionary thinking a range of models emerge from the study illustrating the variety and complexity of evolutionary governance of economic systems Exploring the little investigated aspects of an evolutionary economic policy this collection of original papers goes beyond the traditional confines of positive theory making a long overdue contribution to the field of evolutionary economics It will therefore be invaluable to a wide ranging audience including evolutionary and institutional economists governmental scientists management scientists and scholars following an interdisciplinary approach in the social and cognitive sciences

Social Systems and the Evolution of Action Theory Talcott Parsons, 1977

Evolutionary Economics and Environmental Policy Jeroen C. J. M. van den Bergh, 2007 This study offers a unique evolutionary economics perspective on energy and innovation policies in the wider context of the transition to sustainable development The authors include an analysis of the environmental policy implications of evolutionary economics a critical examination of current Dutch environmental and innovation policies and policy documents systematic evaluation of three specific energy technologies namely fuel cells nuclear fusion and photovoltaic cells within the evolutionary economic framework Their analysis results in a number of very specific policy recommendations which to some extent may be in conflict with current policy advice and practice Evolutionary Economics and Environmental Policy will appeal to researchers undergraduate and graduate students in environmental economics environmental science public economics and technology studies It will also be valuable to policy advisors and policymakers whose decisions affect the environment either directly or indirectly
