SPIDER-MAN CAPTURES FLEEING ROBBER

Spidy helps Police in Wild Car Chase by Lydia Coles

Two men, who police say held up nine restaurants in two hours (earning themselves the nickname of 'The Diner Bandits'), were caught last night, after a wild car chase was suddenly halted by the arrival of Spider-Man.

The men, identified as Robert Fisher, 33 of the Bronx, and Douglas Washington, 27, of Brooklyn, were spotted running out of the Malibu Coffee Shop on Twenty-Third Street, waving guns and threatening pedestrians. They leaped into their convertible and sped off. Quick-thinking witnesses phoned in the licence plate number to the police, and the alleged thieves were soon spotted by a police car, which gave chase. Two more police cars entered the pursuit as the convertible sped into Greenwich Village. Pedestrians scrambled to get out of the way as the fleeing suspects smashed through anything that got in their path.

"When I saw him, my pulse started racing!" said eyewitness Heidi MacDonald. "He swung down from overhead. I thought he was going to miss the car completely, but he came zipping down, straight as an arrow. The two guys in the car were shooting at him, and he dodged the bullets right in mid-air. I've never seen anything like it!"

According to MacDonald, Spider-Man dropped straight into the interior of the open-topped automobile. The two suspects tried to fight back, but Spider-Man was far too strong for them, slapping aside their guns as if they were toys. When they kept trying to resist, Spider-Man spun webbing out from his wrists, attaching long strands to the backs of the fleeing criminals. He then connected the web strands to a lamp-post overhead, and the two criminals were yanked straight up and out of their car.

"You should have seen their faces!" said MacDonald, "Hanging from the lamppost flapping their arms and legs around like kids making snow angels - except they sure weren't having any fun!"

Spider-Man drove off in the convertible, leaving the dangling criminals to be picked up by the police some minutes later. The car itself was recovered half an hour later, abandoned in front of the Lyric Theatre.

The district attorney's office has said that they plan to charge Fisher and Washington with robbery, assault, reckless endangerment, and hanging from a lamp-post without a licence.

Spider-Man was not able to be located by police for questioning in his involvement.

"Who cares about questioning him?" said one bystander, "he was there when we needed him and he saved a lot of people," a sentiment that seems to be shared by many New Yorkers who welcome Spider-Man's presence in a city that seems more crime-ridden every day.
