Landscapes of Collectivity in the Life Sciences Snait B. Gissis, Ehud Lamm, Ayelet Shavit, 2018-01-12 Broad perspective on collectivity in the life sciences from microorganisms to human consensus and the theoretical and empirical opportunities and challenges Many researchers and scholars in the life sciences have become increasingly critical of the traditional methodological focus on the individual This volume counters such methodological individualism by exploring recent and influential work in the life sciences that utilizes notions of collectivity sociality rich interactions and emergent phenomena as essential explanatory tools to handle numerous persistent scientific questions in the life sciences The contributors consider case studies of collectivity that range from microorganisms to human consensus discussing theoretical and empirical challenges and the innovative methods and solutions scientists have devised The contributors offer historical philosophical and biological perspectives on collectivity and describe collective phenomena seen in insects the immune system communication and human collectivity with examples ranging from cooperative transport in the longhorn crazy ant to the evolution of autobiographical memory They examine ways of explaining collectivity including case studies and modeling approaches and explore collectivity's explanatory power They present a comprehensive look at a specific case of collectivity the Holobiont notion the idea of a multi species collective a host and diverse microorganisms and the hologenome theory which posits that the holobiont and its hologenome are a unit of adaption The volume concludes with reflections on the work of the late physicist Eshel Ben Jacob pioneer in the study of collective phenomena in living systems Contributors Oren Bader John Beatty Dinah R Davison Daniel Dor Ofer Feinerman Raghavendra Gadagkar Scott F Gilbert Snait B Gissis Deborah M Gordon James Griesemer Zachariah I Gochau Wright Erik R Hanschen Eva Jablonka Mohit Kumar Jolly Anat Kolumbus Ehud Lamm Herbert Levine Arnon Levy Xue Fei Li Elisabeth A Lloyd Yael Lubin Eva Maria Luef Ehud Meron Richard E Michod Samir Okasha Simone Pika Joan Roughgarden Eugene Rosenberg Ayelet Shavit Yael Silver Alfred I Tauber Ilana Zilber Rosenberg

Technologies in Biomedical and Life Sciences Education Harry J. Witchel, Michael W. Lee, 2022-06-24 This contributed volume focuses on understanding the educational strengths and weaknesses of mediated content including media as a learning supplement in comparison to traditional face to face learning Each chapter includes research on and a broad brush summary of approaches to combining life sciences education with educational technologies The chapters are organized into four main sections each of which focuses on a key question regarding the consequences of incorporating media into education In this regard the authors highlight how educational technology is both a bridge and barrier to student access and inclusivity Further they address the ongoing discussion as to whether students need to be present for lectures and on how having agency in their own learning can improve both retention and conceptual understanding To link the content to current events the authors also shed light on the impact that the COVID 19 pandemic is having on the continuity of educational programs and on the growing importance of educational technologies Consequently the book offers life science educators valuable guidance on the technologies already available and an outlook on what is yet to come Emergence and Modularity in Life Sciences Lars H. Wegner, Ulrich Lüttge, 2019-02-12 This book focuses on modules and emergence with self organization in the life sciences As Aristotle observed so long ago the whole is more than the sum of its parts However contemporary science is dominated by reductionist concepts and tends to neglect the non reproducible features of complex systems which emerge from the interaction of the smaller units they are composed of The book is divided into three major parts the essays in part A highlight the conceptual basis of emergence linking it to the philosophy of science systems biology and sustainability This is subsequently exemplified in part B by applying the concept of emergence to various biological disciplines such as genetics developmental biology neurobiology plant physiology and ecology New aspects of emergence come into play when biology meets the technical sciences as revealed in a chapter on bionics In turn part C adopts a broader view revealing how the organization of life follows a hierarchical order in terms of scalar dimensions ranging from the molecular level to the entire biosphere The idea that life is primarily and exclusively shaped by processes at the molecular level and in particular by the information encoded in the genome is refuted rather there is no hierarchy with respect to the level of causation in the cross talk between the levels In the last two chapters the evolutionary trend toward ever increasing complexity in living systems is interpreted in terms of the Gaia hypothesis sensu Lovelock the entire biosphere is viewed as a functional unit or holobiont like system organized to develop and sustain life on Earth
