Value Chains, Social Inclusion and Economic Development A.H.J. Helmsing, Sietze Vellema, 2012-05-23

Lead firms development organisations donors and governments view value chains and voluntary standards as vital instruments for achieving millennium development goals through trade and market related interventions The precise foundations for these development strategies which suggest positive development outcomes from integration of poor actors into value chains are as yet underdeveloped The interdisciplinary work in this volume shows how trade is managed and asks theory driven questions about how value chains relate to locally rooted development processes Policy makers and development practitioners are increasingly using value chain analysis to frame pro poor development interventions This book offers multiple conceptualizations of development outcomes of inclusion of small producers firms and workers in value chains Processes of inclusion at different scales are unpacked in order to identify the terms of participation of small producers firms and workers As value chains are embedded the book further argues that inclusion can be conceptualized as the degree of alignment between value chain logics and the institutions and capacities in the local business system The combination of inclusive governance and endogenous development informs a grounded debate on roles of development oriented partnerships Chapters in this volume draw on multiple strands of economics sociology political science geography and management studies and for empirical grounding engage in comparative analysis of cases from Latin America SubSaharan Africa and East and South East Asia These are combined with processes taking place at a global level such as the proliferation of standards and the growth of roundtables and multi stakeholder partnerships The contributions explore contrasts between contexts between industries or commodities products and between conceptual frameworks and the context dependency of development impact necessitates cross case investigations This collection will be of interest to scholars in development studies economics business studies as well as to development policy makers

Enhancing the sustainability and financing of forest-based value chains Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Boscolo, M.; Lehtonen, P.; Di Girolami, E.; Duong, G., 2025-05-09

Value chain analysis offers a critical lens to understand the actors and activities connecting production to consumption revealing market access pathways key influencers and power dynamics and the distribution of financial margins Providing a systemic perspective on the interconnectedness of actors and value chain stages it can also identify feedback loops and foster multistakeholder engagement Despite established methodologies for agriculture guidance for assessing and upgrading forest based value chains FBVCs remains limited This document addresses this gap by providing a framework for conducting FBVC assessments designing upgrading strategies tailored to their unique characteristics including multifunctionality ecosystem services common property and long production cycles and exploring financing mechanisms Recognizing finance as a key constraint this guidance builds upon existing methodologies particularly that of FAO Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture C. Martin Webber, Patrick Labaste, 2009-12-16 Value chain based approaches offer tremendous scope for market based improvements in production productivity rural economy diversification and household incomes but are often covered by literature that is too conceptual or heavily focused on analysis This has created a gap in the information available to planners practitioners and value chain participants Furthermore few references are available on how these approaches can be applied specifically to developing agriculture in Africa Building Competitiveness in Africa's Agriculture A Guide to Value Chain Concepts and Applications describes practical implementation approaches and illustrates them with scores of real African agribusiness case studies Using these examples the Guide presents a range of concepts analytical tools and methodologies centered on the value chain that can be used to design implement and evaluate agricultural and agribusiness development initiatives It stresses principles of market focus collaboration information sharing and innovation The Guide begins by examining core concepts and issues related to value chains A brief literature review then focuses on five topics of particular relevance to African agricultural value chains These topics address challenges faced by value chain participants and practitioners that resonate through the many cases described in the book The core of the book presents methodological tools and approaches that blend important value chain concepts with the topics and with sound business principles The tools and case studies have been selected for their usefulness in supporting market driven private sector initiatives to improve value chains The Guide offers 13 implementation approaches presented within the implementation cycle of a value chain program followed by descriptions of actual cases Roughly 60 percent of the examples are from Africa while the rest come from Europe Latin America and Asia The Guide offers useful guidance to businesspeople policy makers representatives of farmer or trade organizations and others who are engaged in agro enterprise and agribusiness development These readers will learn how to use value chain approaches in ways that can contribute to sound operational decisions improved market linkage and better results for enterprise and industry development Supporting Small Forest Enterprises Duncan Macqueen, 2008 Best practice trends that could help an medium forest enterprises develop Mechanisms that could improve support for small and medium forest enterprises Information and institutional gaps Recommendations for better links to markets service providers an processes Closing the gender gap in agriculture: A trainer's manual Colverson, K.E., 2013-07-31 Agriculture, Livestock Production and Aquaculture Arvind Kumar, Pavan Kumar, S. S. Singh, Bambang Hendro Trisasongko, Meenu

Rani,2022-04-28 This two volume set discusses recent approaches and technological innovations for sustainable agriculture in smallholder farming systems impacted by climate change The systems covered include crop based agricultural production as well as aquaculture and livestock production as related systems using similar techniques to combat food security issues brought about by climate change and resource overuse The chapters detail innovations involving crop diversification soil resilience management geoinformatics and land suitability monitoring for smart farming information technology in livestock production and nutrient resource management in fishery aquaculture Researchers practitioners and industries will be able to use this information to implement socially and economically sustainable practices to achieve food security in impoverished areas vulnerable to climate change while also learning about the rapid evolution in information technology that is applicable for and available to small holder farmers Volume 2 focuses on trends and technologies in food security within the context of sustainable practices drone technology microwave data molecular farming machine learning agricultural economics spatial modeling and agricultural policy These chapters discuss advancements in fishery resource and aquaculture practices and also the challenges facing these areas due to climate change Diagnostics for Industrial Value Chain Development ,2011

Promoting industrial value chains in developing countries is a promising approach to foster economic development create jobs and induce inclusive growth while addressing social and environmental issues However such promotion requires understanding of the status of development in the value chain and the complex linkages among its actors and with the socio political environment This publication assists analysts and decision makers in obtaining a complete picture of the status quo in a given value chain using rapid data collection and analysis methods This type of diagnostic is useful at any point of value chain development at the outset when choosing the value chain during the analysis phase and later during implementation monitoring evaluation and adjustment
