Chapters 1-9 Quiz

1. What 'sight' in chapter one helps Victor to forget the passing cares of life?
2. Victor states, "If our impulses were confined to hunger, thirst, and desire, we might be nearly free" (pg. 111). Do you agree with this statement? What point is Victor trying to make?
3. What do you think is the importance of the poem excerpt on page 111? What was Victor's original 'dream'?
4. The creature approaches Victor with what kind of speed? How might he possess such capabilities?
5. At the end of chapter II, Victor finally feels what for the first time? Victor feels he needs to do what for the monster?
6. The symbol of FIRE is introduced in ch. III (pg 119)—what are the two opposite effects that fire can produce and what might fire symbolize?
7. In Chapter III, the creature states:
"...the old man took no notice, until she sobbed audibly...He raised her, and smiled with such kindness and affection, that I felt sensations of a peculiar and overpowering nature: they were a mixture of pain and pleasure, such as I had never before experienced, either from hunger or cold, warmth or food; and I withdrew from the window, unable to bear these emotions" (pgs. 124-125).
What mixture of emotions might the creature be experiencing? Why might he experience these?
8. The monster sees the poverty of the family in Chapter IV, and he learns what lesson? What does he do for the family once he learns this lesson?
9. On page 129, what is the 'Godlike science' that the monster discovers and desires to become acquainted with?
10. What are the names of the monsters' three "protectors?"

Harvard Law Review ,1929      Begetting Mara van der Lugt,2026-01-13 An investigation of what it means to have children morally philosophically and emotionally Do you want to have children is a question we routinely ask each other But what does it mean to create a child Is this decision always justified Does anyone really have the moral right to create another person In Begetting Mara van der Lugt attempts to fill in the moral background of procreation Drawing on both philosophy and popular culture van der Lugt does not provide a definitive answer on the morality of having a child instead she helps us find the right questions to ask Most of the time when we talk about whether to have children what we are really talking about is whether we want to have children Van der Lugt shows why this is not enough To consider having children she argues is to interrogate our own responsibility and commitments morally and philosophically and also personally What does it mean to bring a new creature into the world to decide to perform an act of creation What does it mean to make the decision that life is worth living on behalf of a person who cannot be consulted These questions are part of a conversation we should have started long ago Van der Lugt does not ignore the problematic aspects of procreation ethical environmental and otherwise But she also acknowledges the depth and complexity of the intensely human desire to have a child of our own blood and our own making
