Self-directed learning research and its impact on educational practice Elsa Mentz, Roxanne Bailey, 2021-05-17 This scholarly book is the third volume in an NWU book series on self directed learning and is devoted to self directed learning research and its impact on educational practice. The importance of self directed learning for learners in the 21st century to equip themselves with the necessary skills to take responsibility for their own learning for life cannot be over emphasised. The target audience does not only consist of scholars in the field of self directed learning in Higher Education and the Schooling sector but includes all scholars in the field of teaching and learning in all education and training sectors. The book contributes to the discourse on creating dispositions towards self directed learning among all learners and adds to the latest body of scholarship in terms of self directed learning. Although from different perspectives all chapters in the book are closely linked together around self directed learning as a central theme following on the work done in Volume 1 of this series Self Directed Learning for the 21st Century Implications for Higher Education to form a rich knowledge bank of work on self directed learning.

Who Gets In? Rebecca Zwick, 2017-05-15 On the disputed topic of US college admissions everyone agrees that this high stakes competition is unfair. But few agree on what a fair process would be. Stressing transparency in evaluating applicants, Rebecca Zwick assesses the goals and criteria of different admissions policies and shows how they can fail to produce the desired results.

The Gender Communication Connection Teri Kwal Gamble, Michael W. Gamble, 2020-11-09 The third edition of this classic text helps readers consider the myriad ways gendered attitudes and practices influence communication in our personal and professional interactions. Written in an engaging style with a wide array of exercises designed to challenge and interest readers in applying what they learn, the book integrates research with examples from contemporary life related to gender and culture, race, class, and media. Among new topics covered in this edition are multiple genders, gender activism, and the MeToo movement, and challenges of twenty-first century masculinities and femininities, including expanded coverage of contemporary male issues. Fresh coverage is also afforded to each communication context, particularly gender at work, the legal and political spheres, global cultures, and the digital world, including social media. The book is ideally suited for undergraduate courses in gender and communication within communication studies, sociology, and business departments. Online resources include lecture slides and an instructor's manual.

Positive Youth Development, Mental Health, and Psychological Well-Being in Diverse Youth Nora Wiium, Laura Ferrer-Wreder, Jennifer E. Lansford, Lene Arnett Jensen, 2023-06-15 In this Research Topic our aim is to examine how personal

resources related to competencies skills and self perception as well as environmental contextual and relational features of the social contexts of diverse youth directly or indirectly are important to mental health and psychological well being As previous research on young people has mainly focused on youth s weaknesses rather than their strengths our use of Positive Youth Development PYD in working with culturally diverse youth and their well being in this Research Topic is novel We invite contributions from researchers that were initially presented their papers in a meeting that was held by research partners of the Cross National Project on Positive Youth Development CN PYD and who represent an international and multidisciplinary panel of experts on PYD The CN PYD was initiated in 2014 at the University of Bergen and has an ongoing data collection that involves approximately 10 000 minority and majority youth and emerging adults ages 16 to 29 living in Africa Asia Australia Europe New Zealand and South America CN PYD uses a strengths based approach to the conceptualization of youth as resources and agentic which is in opposition to the view of the developmental period of adolescence as being a period inherently fraught with problems and risks The goal of the cross national project is to assess personal strengths and contextual resources considering how these resources come together to facilitate youth thriving and to document how young people make positive and valued contributions to themselves and others We also advance research on the complex interplay between personal and contextual resources and their connections with risk behaviors and problems in essence taking a perspective of the whole child both in terms of strengths and problems The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces ,1909 Poultry and Egg Marketing ,1988
