Entretien Avec Pierre Kast:

The Red Years of Cahiers du cinéma (1968-1973) Daniel Fairfax, 2025-10-01 The uprising which shook France in May 1968 also had a revolutionary effect on the country's most prominent film journal Under editors Jean Louis Comolli and Jean Narboni Cahiers du cinéma embarked on a militant turn that would govern the journal's work over the next five years Inspired by Marxist and psychoanalytic theory the red years of Cahiers du cinéma produced a theoretical outpouring that was seminal for the formation of film studies and is still of vital relevance for the contemporary audiovisual landscape The Red Years of Cahiers du Cinéma 1968 1973 gives an overview of this period in the journal's history and its aftermath combining biographical accounts of the critics who wrote for Cahiers in the post 1968 period with theoretical explorations of their key texts

Shocking Representation Adam Lowenstein, 2005-12-22 In this imaginative new work Adam Lowenstein explores the ways in which a group of groundbreaking horror films engaged the haunting social conflicts left in the wake of World War II Hiroshima and the Vietnam War Lowenstein centers Shocking Representation around readings of films by Georges Franju Michael Powell Shindo Kaneto Wes Craven and David Cronenberg He shows that through allegorical representations these directors confronted and challenged comforting historical narratives and notions of national identity intended to soothe public anxieties in the aftermath of national traumas Borrowing elements from art cinema and the horror genre these directors disrupted the boundaries between high and low cinema Lowenstein contrasts their works often dismissed by contemporary critics with the films of acclaimed New Wave directors in France England Japan and the United States He argues that these New Wave films which were embraced as both art and national cinema often upheld conventional ideas of nation history gender and class questioned by the horror films By fusing film studies with the emerging field of trauma studies and drawing on the work of Walter Benjamin Adam Lowenstein offers a bold reassessment of the modern horror film and the idea of national cinema

Projections of Memory Richard I. Suchenski, 2016 Although the length of commercially distributed feature films has remained relatively standardized since the mid 1910s there is also a small but substantial body of ambitious works that utilize their extraordinarily long durations to give cinema the character of a religious ritual While their methods and overall goals vary considerably these works actively participate in a modernist exploration of the relationship between form and content often taking their innovations to what seem to be their limits simultaneously establishing and exhausting their own paradigms Their makers strove to create cinematic cathedrals monuments to the imagination that promise profound transformations of vision selfhood and experience Unique both in their formal adventurousness and their modes of presentation works like Napol on Abel Gance 1927 Eniaios Gregory Markopoulos 1947 1992 Out 1 Jacques Rivette 1971 and Histoire s du cin ma Jean Luc Godard 1988 1998 utilize their temporal scale to create a particularly intense form of spectatorial engagement that is wedded to or related to a larger utopian program Synthesizing their disparate influences into magisterial edifices these projects treat cinema as a space in which the most ancient forms can be made radically new
