Cancer Metabolic Reprogramming through Molecular Imaging Franca Podo,Zaver M. Bhujwalla,Egidio Iorio,2017-07-27 The inclusion of oncogene driven reprogramming of energy metabolism within the list of cancer hallmarks Hanahan and Weinberg Cell 2000 2011 has provided major impetus to further investigate the existence of a much wider metabolic rewiring in cancer cells which not only includes deregulated cellular bioenergetics but also encompasses multiple links with a more comprehensive network of altered biochemical pathways This network is currently held responsible for redirecting carbon and phosphorus fluxes through the biosynthesis of nucleotides amino acids lipids and phospholipids and for the production of second messengers essential to cancer cells growth survival and invasiveness in the hostile tumor environment The capability to develop such a concerted rewiring of biochemical pathways is a versatile tool adopted by cancer cells to counteract the host defense and eventually resist the attack of anticancer treatments Integrated efforts elucidating key mechanisms underlying this complex cancer metabolic reprogramming have led to the identification of new signatures of malignancy that are providing a strong foundation for improving cancer diagnosis and monitoring tumor response to therapy using appropriate molecular imaging approaches In particular the recent evolution of positron emission tomography PET magnetic resonance spectroscopy MRS spectroscopic imaging MRSI functional MR imaging fMRI and optical imaging technologies combined with complementary cellular imaging approaches have created new ways to explore and monitor the effects of metabolic reprogramming in cancer at clinical and preclinical levels. Thus the progress of high tech engineering and molecular imaging technologies combined with new generation genomic proteomic and phosphoproteomic methods can significantly improve the clinical effectiveness of image based interventions in cancer and provide novel insights to design and validate new targeted therapies. The Frontiers in Oncology Research Topic Exploring Cancer Metabolic Reprogramming Through Molecular Imaging focusses on current achievements challenges and needs in the application of molecular imaging methods to explore cancer metabolic reprogramming and evaluate its potential impact on clinical decisions and patient outcome. A series of reviews and perspective articles along with original research contributions on humans and on preclinical models have been concertedly included in the Topic to build an open forum on perspectives present needs and future challenges of this cutting edge research area.

Public Policy and Higher Education Nathan J. Daun-Barnett, Edward P. St. John, 2024-11-15. Public Policy and Higher Education third edition provides readers with the tools to examine how policies affect students access and success in college. Rather than arguing for a single approach the authors use research based evidence and consider political and historical values and beliefs to examine how policymakers and higher education administrators can inform and influence change within systems of higher education. Raising new questions and examining recent developments this fully updated edition is an invaluable resource for graduate students administrators policymakers and researchers who seek to learn more about the crucial contexts underlying policy decisions and college access. This third edition includes updates across the board to reflect current policy contexts. Expanded historical frameworks allow readers to better understand the preparation access persistence and the development of state education systems. New considerations of state and national political ideologies help to inform contemporary contexts. Finally refreshed cases including an additional case about Florida and updated cases for California Minnesota Indiana and North Carolina equip readers with new ways to analyze complex state policies and their impact on higher education. Special Features Case Studies help readers to build their skills in analyzing how political values beliefs and traditions influence policy decisions and adaptations within state systems. Reflective Questions encourage readers to discuss state and campus contexts for policy decisions and to consider the strategies used in a state or institution. Approachable Explanations unpack complex public policies and financial strategies for readers who seek an understanding of public policy in higher education. Research Based Recommendations explore how policymakers higher education administrators and faculty can work together to improve quality diversity and financial stewardship.
