EPA Report Shows Disproportionate Impacts of Climate Change on Socially Vulnerable Populations in the United States

WASHINGTON (Sept. 2, 2021) — A new EPA analysis released today shows that the most severe harms from climate change fall disproportionately upon underserved communities who are least able to prepare for, and recover from, heat waves, poor air quality, flooding, and other impacts. EPA's analysis indicates that racial and ethnic minority communities are particularly vulnerable to the greatest impacts of climate change. Climate Change and Socio-Economic Vulnerability in the United States: A Focus on Six Impact Sectors is one of the most advanced environmental justice studies to date that looks at how projected climate change impacts may be distributed across the American public.

"The impacts of climate change that we are feeling today, from extreme heat to flooding to severe storms, are expected to get worse, and people least able to prepare and cope are disproportionately exposed," said EPA Administrator Michael S. Regan. "This report punctuates the urgency of equitable action on climate change. With this level of science and data, we can more effectively center EPA's mission on achieving environmental justice for all."

Epa Suppressed Climate Report:

The Inquisition of Climate Science James Lawrence Powell, 2011-08-30 Modern science is under the greatest and most successful attack in recent history. An industry of denial abetted by news media and info tainment broadcasters more interested in selling controversy than presenting facts has duped half the American public into rejecting the facts of climate science. An overwhelming body of rigorously vetted scientific evidence showing that human caused carbon based emissions are linked to warming the Earth. The industry of climate science denial is succeeding. Public acceptance has declined even as the scientific evidence for global warming has increased. It is vital that the public understand how anti science ideologues, pseudo scientists and non scientists have bamboozled them. We cannot afford to get global warming wrong yet we are thanks to deniers and their methods. The Inquisition of Climate Science is the first book to comprehensively take on the climate science denial movement and the deniers themselves exposing their lack of credentials, their extensive industry funding and their failure to provide any alternative theory to explain the observed evidence of warming. In this book readers meet the most prominent deniers while dissecting their credentials, arguments and lack of objectivity. James Lawrence Powell shows that the deniers use a wide variety of deceptive rhetorical techniques many stretching back to ancient Greece. Carefully researched, fully referenced and compellingly written his book clearly reveals that the evidence of global warming is real and that an industry of denial has deceived the American public putting them and their grandchildren at risk.

Change You Can Really Believe In Joseph Toomey, 2012-04-27 No President in living memory has entered office with a greater amount of goodwill and broad bi partisan support than Barack Obama. And few Presidents in living memory had arrived in Washington proclaiming such dramatically articulated vows to change the tone of politics to usher in an era of post partisanship in an effort to rally the nation behind his plan of enacting an ambitious program of social and economic change. He vowed to enact a broad bi partisan agenda for health care reform, energy transformation, economic revitalization, job growth and restoration of America's standing in the world. And no President in living memory has more quickly and more completely abandoned his promises. He enacted a health care plan that far more resembled plans he had bitterly criticized his opponents for supporting rather than the one his campaign outlined. His promised job growth through economic stimulus measures drove up the unemployment rate to double digits leading to millions of job losses. His vows to restore fiscal probity resulted in the most ruinous deficits and public debt in U.S. history. His green energy program collapsed into a cesspool of crony political favoritism. His vows to restore relations with hostile nations like Iran and North Korea had only deepened those nations' disdain for America. Despite his harsh criticisms Obama adopted nearly every plank in the Bush era anti terror policy. His promise to restore science to its rightful place resulted in the most rigidly inflexible program of ideological extremism in modern memory. Even more noteworthy was the fact that the new era of post partisanship he had vowed to create in Washington resulted in the worst political gridlock in living memory. This book examines in detail hundreds of campaign promises Obama made while running for President contrasting those with the record of failure and broken promises left in his wake It is a story that has received too little attention until now Allegations of Political Interference with Government Climate Change Science United States.
