Environmental Health Risks David G. Wood,2002-07 Some dioxins which are chemical compounds that share certain structural and biological characteristics have been linked to adverse human health effects including cancer 1 Often the byproducts of combustion and industrial processes complex mixtures of dioxins enter the food chain and human diet through emissions into the air that settle on soil plants and water The Environmental Protection Agency EPA and other entities such as the World Health Organization began assessing the potential human health risks of dioxins in the 1970s when animal studies on one of them 2 3 7 8 tetrachlorodibenzo p dioxin or TCDD showed it to be the most potent cancer causing chemical studied to date EPAs initial assessment of dioxins was published in 1985 Since that time there have been major advances in the scientific understanding of dioxin toxicity and significant new studies on dioxins potential adverse health effects As a result in 1991 EPA decided to conduct a reassessment of the health risks of exposure to dioxins A draft of this reassessment was reviewed by a scientific peer review panel in 1995 and three panels reviewed key segments of later drafts in 1997 and 2000
