

FAMILY DISASTER PLAN

Develop a family disaster plan to identify potential emergencies and be ready to act if disaster strikes.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION---

Learn the types of natural disasters in your region.

Local emergency management or civil defense officials can identify which disasters are most likely to hit your community.

Identify which human-caused or technological disasters can affect your region.

Hazardous materials accidents can occur anywhere chemical substances are stored, manufactured, or transported.

Learn whether or not your community has a warning system.

Not all communities have public warning systems. Contact your local emergency management or civil defense office to find out if your community has a warning system and if so, how it operates.

Workplace and school emergency response plans.

Employers and school officials should have a detailed emergency response (evacuation) plan that is available to the public.

DEVELOP A PLAN-----

Keep it simple.

Household emergency plans should be kept simple enough so people can remember the important details. A disaster is an extremely stressful situation that can create confusion. The best emergency plans are those with very few details.

Identify two meeting places.

- The first meeting place should be a location right outside the home. This site is where everyone should meet in case of a sudden emergency, such as a fire.
- The second meeting place should be a building or park outside of the neighborhood in case household members cannot return home. Everyone should know the address of this location.

Be familiar with escape routes.

Depending upon the type of disaster, it may be necessary to evacuate the home. Plan several escape routes in case certain roads are blocked or closed.

Keep a portable, battery-operated radio.

Maintaining a communications link with the outside is a step that can mean the difference between life and death. Make sure that all family members know where the portable, battery-operated radio is located, and always keeps a supply of extra batteries.

Install smoke detectors on each level of the home, especially near bedrooms.

Post emergency telephone numbers (fire, police, and ambulance) by the telephones.

Teach children how and when to call 9-1-1 or the local emergency management number for help.

Teach each household member how to use a fire extinguisher. Make sure they know where it is kept.

Teach household members how to turn off utilities.
