Parliamentary Assembly - Working Papers - 2008 Ordinary Session (Third Part) 23-27 June 2008 Volume VI

(2009) Council of Europe, 2009-01-01      Like a Holy Crusade Nicolaus Mills, 1993-06 The year 1964 produced a watershed in American race relations. In one of the civil rights movement's most dramatic initiatives, thousands of Northern white college students were recruited to come south that summer in an effort to break Mississippi and secure voting rights for its black citizens. Nicolaus Mills traces the history of this Summer Project, including its origins and aftermath, and shows in detail how its consequences involved not only great victories but also violence: the murders of Michael Schwerner, James Chaney, and Andrew Goodman among other events, and disillusion. His persuasive argument is that the noble quest for racial solidarity turned bitter and divisive in practice, climaxed by the Democratic Party's rejection of the Mississippi Freedom Democrats at the 1964 national convention. In the rush of black anger that followed, the gains of the summer were forgotten, and Black Power was born, and blacks went their separate way in trying to achieve equality in America. Relations between whites and blacks took a crucial turning which continues powerfully to influence our politics and social well-being today.

In Caesar's Shadow* Paul Chwialkowski, 1993-08-18 Although considered by MacArthur as his number one fighting general, Eichelberger is one of the least known of the World War II commanders. Professor Chwialkowski examines General Eichelberger's background, rise through the ranks, and wartime experiences. In the end, he concludes that Eichelberger failed to achieve a widely perceived special competence among his peers; that he had the bad luck to lead in secondary theaters of operations in both world wars; and most importantly, that his personality undermined his standing among superiors and subordinates alike. As the only in-depth biography of Eichelberger, the volume provides new material on the campaigns at Buna, Biak, and the Philippines, as well as fresh insights on MacArthur's handling of the Pacific theater of operations. As such, the volume will be of considerable value to students of World War II and American twentieth-century military history.

American Film History* Cynthia Lucia, Roy Grundmann, Art Simon, 2015-06-25 This authoritative collection of introductory and specialized readings explores the rich and innovative history of this period in American cinema. Spanning an essential range of subjects from the early 1900s Nickelodeon to the decline of the studio system in the 1960s, it combines a broad historical context with careful readings of individual films. Charts the rise of film in early twentieth-century America from its origins to 1960, exploring mainstream trends and developments along with topics often relegated to the margins of standard film histories. Covers diverse issues ranging from silent film and its iconic figures such as Charlie Chaplin to the coming of sound and the rise of film genres, studio moguls, and later the Production Code and Cold War Blacklist. Designed with both students and scholars in mind, each section opens with an historical overview and includes chapters that provide close, careful readings of individual films, clustered around specific topics. Accessibly structured by historical period, offering valuable cultural, social, and political contexts. Contains careful, close analysis of key filmmakers and films from the era, including D. W.

Griffith Charles Chaplin Buster Keaton Erich von Stroheim Cecil B DeMille Don Juan The Jazz Singer I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang Scarface Red Dust Glorifying the American Girl Meet Me in St Louis Citizen Kane Bambi Frank Capra s Why We Fightseries The Strange Love of Martha Ivers Rebel Without a Cause Force of Evil and selected American avant garde and underground films among many others Additional online resources such as sample syllabi which include suggested readings and filmographies for both general specialized courses will be available online May be used alongside American Film History Selected Readings 1960 to the Present to provide an authoritative study of American cinema through the new millennium

The Academy ,1889      Beyond Cutting Edge? Paul C. Heidebrecht,2014-03-10 A quick scan of any newsstand is enough to confirm the widespread preoccupation with technological change As a myriad of articles and advertisements demonstrate not only are we preoccupied with technology but we are bombarded with numerous reminders that the cutting edge is in constant motion Most often the underlying assumption of Christians is that we have no choice but to find ways to cope with the latest and greatest Indeed it is often assumed that the church has no choice but to find ways to cope with its new technological context This book does not make the same assumptions Building on the work of Mennonite theologian John Howard Yoder it argues that the practices of the church make it possible for Christians to conscientiously engage technology This happens when we recognize that marks of the church such as patience vulnerability and servanthood can put technological ideals such as speed control and efficiency in their proper place In the course of grappling with three examples of morally formative technologies automobiles genetically modified food and the Internet this book goes beyond Yoder s thought by emphasizing that the church also plays a crucial role in our moral formation      OSS Foreign Nationalities
