This book provides a powerful diagnosis of why the global governance of science struggles in the face of emerging powers Through unpacking critical events in China and India over the past twenty years it demonstrates that the subversiveness assumed in the two countries rise in the life sciences reflects many of the regulatory challenges that are shared worldwide It points to a decolonial imperative for science governance to be responsive and effective in a cosmopolitan world By highlighting epistemic injustice within contemporary science the book extends theories of decolonisation Products for
