Chinese Migrants and Africa's Development Doctor Ben Lampert,Doctor May Tan-Mullins,Daphne Chang,Giles

Mohan,2014-06-12 China s recent stepping up of relations with Africa is one of the most significant developments on the African continent for decades For some it promises an end to Africa s dependent aid relationships as the Chinese bring expertise technology and a stronger business focus But for others it is no more than a new form of imperialism This book is the first to systematically study the motivations relationships and impact of this migration It focuses not just on the Chinese migrants but also on the perceptions of and linkages to their African hosts By studying this everyday interaction we get a much richer picture of whether this is South South cooperation as political leaders would have us believe or a more complex relationship that can both compromise and encourage African development Business, Peacebuilding and Sustainable Development Jason Miklian,Rina Alluri,John Elias Katsos,2019-05-29 The intersection of business peace and sustainable development is becoming an increasingly powerful space and is already beginning to show the capability to drive major global change This book deciphers how different forms of corporate engagement in the pursuit of peace and development have different impacts and outcomes It looks specifically at how the private sector can better deliver peace contributions in fragile violent and conflict settings and then at the deeper consequences of this agenda upon businesses governments international institutions and not least the local communities that are presumed to be the beneficiaries of such actions It is the first book to compile the state of the field in one place and is therefore an essential guide for students researchers policy makers and practitioners on the role of business in peace Without cross disciplinary engagement it is hard to identify where the cutting edge truly lies and how to take the topic forward in a more systematic manner This edited book brings together thought leaders in the field and pulls disparate strands together from business ethics management international relations peace and conflict studies in order to better understand how businesses can contribute to peacebuilding and sustainable development Before businesses take a deeper role in the most complicated and risky elements of sustainable development we need to be able to better explain what works why it works and what effective business efforts for peace and development mean for the multilateral institutional frameworks This book does just that Industrial Development Report 2013 United Nations,2014-03-15 This Report demonstrates that a more sustainable energy future is within our reach and that industrial energy efficiency is key It shows how industrial energy efficiency can make a difference by providing a detailed comprehensive global assessment of potentials technologies economic benefits as well as cost and barriers to be removed It provides an overview of the policy instruments most useful for developing economies This innovative work also reminds us that we must act now if we are to unlock the potential of current and emerging energy efficiency technologies The opportunities are significant by reducing energy inputs per unit of output we will benefit from improvements in standards of living while protecting the environment Government Gazette ,1902 Yojana ,2014 Dictionary Catalog of the Water Resources Center Archives, University of California, Berkeley Water Resources Center Archives (Calif.),1971 Australian Education Index ,1980 The Library of Congress Author Catalog Library of Congress,1953 AIGA Journal American Institute of Graphic Arts,1951
