about the rise of the West the hegemon of the State and the might of overseas colonial empires can be overturned by emphasizing on dynamic collaborative nonlinear networks as opposed to formal networks based on hierarchy. Such networks signal a completely different picture about global interactions in the period 1400-1800 emphasizing the centrality of peoples and commodities at different times in different parts of the world. More importantly the book challenges chronological readings and urges us to think spatially instead. With contributions from Indian American French and Iberian scholars Networks in the First Global Age 1400-1800 tells us what happens when the sea of history meets the sea of network analysis.
