Deposition Questioning Strategies and Techniques David A. Binder, Albert J. Moore, Paul Bergman, 2001 Provides descriptions and illustrations of effective strategies and techniques for taking and defending depositions. Designed to serve as a text for a 2-4 unit stand-alone depositions course or as a supplement to a civil pre-trial lawyering course. Devotes separate chapters to such fundamental skills as obtaining helpful answers to critical questions, undercutting harmful testimony, obtaining a deponent's version of significant events, and obtaining information from evasive deponents. Other chapters include topics such as responding to inconsistent or implausible testimony, overcoming opposing counsel's objections and obstructionist tactics, and preparing a client to be deposed.

Teaching Students with Mild and High-Incidence Disabilities at the Secondary Level Edward James Sabornie, Laurie Ungerleider DeBettencourt, 2004 Focusing on the needs of secondary level learners with common disabilities, a group often neglected by other books on the market, Teaching Students with Mild and High Incidence Disabilities at the Secondary Level presents numerous research-proven instructional methods and strategies. It thoroughly examines the methods that are effective across the board as well as methods specific to particular challenges. The authors address special education theory and relevant research in simple, straightforward language that uses minimal jargon, making concepts accessible and understandable to all. Using case studies to show actual instruction as it happens, this book gives readers a realistic portrait of today's diverse student population. Coverage includes special education and adolescence instruction methods and current and future instructional issues. An obvious resource for special education teachers, this book is also an excellent guide for all educators as it provides information about assessment and curriculum planning.
