Maths Paper Grade 12 For 2013:

Assessing Mathematical Literacy Kaye Stacey, Ross Turner, 2014-11-03 This book describes the design development delivery and impact of the mathematics assessment for the OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA First the origins of PISA's concept of mathematical literacy are discussed highlighting the underlying themes of mathematics as preparation for life after school and mathematical modelling of the real world and clarifying PISA's position within this part of the mathematics education territory The PISA mathematics framework is introduced as a significant milestone in the development and dissemination of these ideas The underlying mathematical competencies on which mathematical literacy so strongly depends are described along with a scheme to use them in item creation and analysis The development and implementation of the PISA survey and the consequences for the outcomes are thoroughly discussed Different kinds of items for both paper based and computer based PISA surveys are exemplified by many publicly released items along with details of scoring The novel survey of the opportunity students have had to learn the mathematics promoted through PISA is explained The book concludes by surveying international impact It presents viewpoints of mathematics educators on how PISA and its constituent ideas and methods have influenced teaching and learning practices curriculum arrangements assessment practices and the educational debate more generally in fourteen countries

Education Sector Plans and their Implementation in Developing Countries Roy Carr-Hill, 2023-03-09 This book examines the factors affecting the successful implementation of Education Sector Plans in developing countries It provides a detailed comparison that draws on data from 27 countries to offer careful research conclusions and policy recommendations Offering a detailed comparison of the schooling situation e.g. availability of potable water and toilets provision for the disabled as well as educational outcomes both test scores and percentages out of school from the 27 countries using empirical evidence the book examines the resources that have been invested in different education sectors investigating the development and success of each plan The volume uses correlation analysis to compare factors including the availability of government funding national characteristics ministerial decisions influences of country and donor stakeholders as well as district and school level issues Thorough comparative analysis of the data is then demonstrated with two measures of achievements to identify which factors can be considered as the most important in order to reach realistic policy and research conclusions Timely and engaging this book will be of great interest to researchers scholars and postgraduate students in the field of education and international development comparative education and international education more broadly

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience
