

Question 7.7

Island of Atlas is a resort situated on a small island off the coast of Durban. The resort is a first of its kind and includes the world's first artificial aquarium, sporting realistic robotic fish. The robotic fish are controlled by a remote server.

The cost of constructing the aquarium was C350 000. An independent valuator separated the cost of the aquarium into the following parts, each of which is considered to have a cost that is significant to the cost of the entire aquarium:

- the structure: estimated cost of C100 000.
- the server: estimated cost of C50 000, and
- the robotic fish: estimated cost of C200 000.

The aquarium is depreciated on the straight-line method:

- The structure has an estimated useful life of 100 years and a residual value of C2 000.
- The server has an estimated useful life of 10 years and a residual value of C1 000.
- The robotic fish have an estimated useful life of 50 years and a nil residual value.

Additional information:

- The resort was open and ready for visitors from 2 January 20X3. However, a national strike during the month of January meant that no staff arrived and thus the grand opening was delayed until 1 February 20X3.
- Other costs incurred in relation to opening the resort:

GAAP: Graded Questions

Property, plant and equipment: cost model

	C
Delivery and electronic set-up of robotic fish	1 000
Staff training for aquarium cleaners and IT specialists	15 000
Testing to ensure aquarium was fully operational before grand opening (this involved testing and checking the structure, server and fish)	3 000
Grand opening launch party, including costs to hire a popular DJ	10 000
Initial operating loss	30 000

- The resort was closed during August 20X3 for its annual maintenance programme.
- Island of Atlas owns only two other items of property, plant and equipment, the relevant details for the current year ended 31 December 20X3 are as follows:
 - Land: The company purchased the land many years ago for C5 000 000. It is not depreciated.
 - Building: The company constructed the building. Construction began in April 20X0 and was complete as at 1 January 20X2. The total construction cost was C12 000 000. The building is depreciated on the reducing balance at a rate of 5% per annum. Its residual value is C2 000 000.
- Island of Atlas measures all its property, plant and equipment under the cost model.

Required:

- Using Island of Atlas's general journal, show all related journal entries for the year ended 31 December 20X3.
- Prepare the 'property, plant and equipment' note for inclusion in the financial statements of Island of Atlas Limited for the year ended 31 December 20X3. Comparatives are not required.

Ignore tax.

Me No Questions (Prodigal Sons, #2) Shirley Wine, 2016-06-01 Shirley Wine takes us back to the small town of Cambridge where secrets and scandals can't stay hidden for long. Ten years ago Logan Sinclair vanished abandoning his home, his family and the prosperous racing stud of Darkhaven and Piper Daintry whose love he once shared. Now that he's returned, Logan is greeted with suspicion and distrust. The good people of Cambridge have long memories and he quickly discovers he can't escape the ghosts of his past, the woman he left behind or the grief that threatens to bring him to his knees. He's heard it said often enough that you can never return home and Logan quickly comes to realise that he may have compounded his mistakes by doing exactly that. Will learning his secrets push Piper further away or will he get a second chance at love?

The Truth About Firearms and Concealed Carry Daniel R. Engel, 2014-04 Due to so much misinformation throughout America regarding firearms, I got tired of seeing innocent people die each and every day at the hands of criminals. I've come to take this poor information and loss of innocent lives in this great country very personally and I decided to put together a book that very thoroughly explains the way firearms and ammunition work and why they do what they do. With extensive information, I hope to further your knowledge and teach you many things to help save your life one day. This book is intended for those with absolutely no experience in firearms and also for those professionals who carry a gun every day for a living. It covers certain specific information to help every household in America to become familiar with firearms, including the most commonly owned firearms, so that nobody will be left owning a gun they cannot or should not use and prevent as many injuries as possible. Also, it assures that you will learn considerable information and be much more prepared to maintain your life in addition to maintaining FREE America.

Wittgenstein and Scepticism Denis McManus, 2003-09-02 Wittgenstein is arguably the greatest philosopher of the last hundred years and scepticism is one of the central problems that modern philosophy faces. This collection is the first to be devoted to an examination of how that great philosopher's work bears on this fundamental philosophical problem.

Wittgenstein's reaction to scepticism is complex, articulating both a sense that sceptical problems are ultimately unreal and a sense that scepticism teaches us something about the fundamental character of the human predicament. The essays, specially written for this collection by distinguished philosophers and commentators on Wittgenstein, explore that reaction, addressing in particular scepticism about the existence of the external world and of other minds. In doing so, it explores issues not only in theory of knowledge but also in metaphysics, the philosophy of mind, language, perception and literature, as well as raising questions about the nature of philosophy itself Several of the papers address the work of Stanley Cavell perhaps the most influential commentator on the work of Wittgenstein and Cavell replies in the final pieces to four of those papers This collection is essential reading for students and scholars of Wittgenstein and anyone interested in the debate surrounding scepticism The Standard ,1957 The Many Review ,1985 Supreme Court ,1907 The German Industrial Echo ,1940 Quiz on Railroads and Railroading, 450 Questions, 450 Answers Association of American Railroads,1940
