2015 U.S. Higher Education Faculty Awards, Vol. 3 Faculty Awards, 2015-12-29 FacultyAwards.org is the first and only university awards program in the United States based on faculty peer evaluation. Faculty Awards was created to recognize outstanding faculty members as viewed by their Faculty peers at colleges and universities across the United States. Faculty members voted through the 2014-2015 academic year for their peers at their academic departments and schools within a number of categories. Access to FacultyAwards.org to nominate and vote for Faculty was limited to university professors or faculty members at accredited U.S. institutions of higher education. Faculty members were nominated and voted for by other faculty members in their own academic departments and schools. We strove to maintain an accurate peer review process. Voting was not open to students or the public at large. In addition, faculty members voted for educators only at their own college or university. Winners for the 2014-2015 academic year in all departments and colleges across U.S. institutions of higher education were announced in March 2015 and are permanently archived at FacultyAwards.org as well as recognized in this 2015 print edition of the Faculty Awards Compendium. For the academic year 2014-2015, votes were cast to nominate and vote for Faculty members and no self-voting was allowed to assure the integrity of the whole process. This volume of the Faculty Awards Compendium includes Faculty awardees within Computer and Information Sciences, Engineering and Science Disciplines for the 2014-2015 academic year. A total of 1282 winning Faculty members in 554 higher education institutions were determined after tallying the votes. We would like to thank all Faculty members who participated in the voting process and to wish all the Faculty awardees continued success in their academic endeavors. We look forward to resuming the voting process for the 2015-2016 academic year awards.

Developing the Innovative Technical Organization Ronald R. Luman, Jerry A. Krill, Timothy J. Galpin, Erik W. Johnson, Ann E. Kedia, Briana D. Vecchio-Pagan, 2026-02-10

A proven systems approach to driving innovation and strategy in complex technical organizations. Innovation is often celebrated in theory but rarely achieved at scale within established technical organizations. Developing the Innovative Technical Organization: How to Implement a Systems Approach to Strategy addresses this challenge by documenting how the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory (APL) successfully elevated its impact through a rigorously designed and executed strategy system. The book provides proof of an organization that integrated strategy and innovation at enterprise scale. The authors, all current or former senior leaders at APL, describe in detail the Laboratory's decade-long journey of strategy development and implementation, from articulating a long-range vision to building an annual cycle that ensures accountability, alignment, and full enterprise engagement. Rich with practical lessons, cultural insights, and stories of both setbacks and successes, this work goes beyond individual case anecdotes to present a comprehensive methodology. Readers will discover how to adapt this systems approach to their own organizations, ensuring that innovation is not the exception but the expectation An essential guide to embedding innovation into strategy and sustaining impact in the face of evolving challenges the text Introduces a full cycle system linking vision strategy articulation decision making and accountability processes Explains how to align investments and resources with strategic priorities to maximize organizational agility Shares cultural lessons learned in engaging middle management and staff in innovation initiatives Provides detailed examples of innovation experiments and how they influenced organizational transformation Demonstrates how strategic innovation prepared API to weather crises including the COVID 19 pandemic Offers a generalizable framework applicable across technical engineering and research organizations Highlighting leadership roles and behaviors critical to sustaining strategy driven innovation Developing the Innovative Technical Organizationis a must read for executives senior managers and decision makers in technical organizations particularly those seeking to scale innovation and strategy in complex environments It is recommended for graduate level courses in engineering management business strategy and organizational leadership and is also a valuable reference for consultants and policymakers

The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020

Stephen T. Garnett,G Barry Baker,2021-12-01 The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020 is the most comprehensive review of the status of Australia s avifauna ever attempted The latest in a series of action plans for Australian birds that have been produced every decade since 1992 it is also the largest The accounts in this plan have been authored by more than 300 of the most knowledgeable bird experts in the country and feature far more detail than any of the earlier plans This volume also includes accounts of over 60 taxa that are no longer considered threatened mainly thanks to sustained conservation action over many decades This extensive book covers key themes that have emerged in the last decade including the increasing impact of climate change as a threatening process most obviously in Queensland s tropical rainforests where many birds are being pushed up the mountains However the effects are also indirect as happened in the catastrophic fires of 2019 20 Many of the newly listed birds are subspecies confined to Kangaroo Island where fire destroyed over half the population But there are good news stories too especially on islands where there have been spectacular successes with predator control Such uplifting results demonstrate that when action plans are followed by action on the ground threatened species can indeed be recovered and threats alleviated
