Epicor Application User Guide

Introduction

The Epicor ERP Application User Guide contains a complete overview of the major ERP modules. This guide begins with an introduction to the application you can leverage to fine-tune ERP to match the business needs of your organization. You examine how to set up and use various setup features. Together, these chapters round out the primary information you need to know about the Epicor application.

The Epicor Environment

The Epicor application is a feature-rich Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software package. In order to gain a thorough understanding of the application, you must first understand the environment in which it runs.

Customer Relationship Management

Customer Relationship Management (CRM) is equipped with the tools you need to find more prospects and quickly connect with them within the application through events, activities, and ultimately the leads generated from the event. The response to these leads is tracked through the application to the eventual order. The chapter begins with setup steps to create a lead and then details how to manage leads, opportunities, and quotes.

Opportunities and Quotes

Use the Quote Management module to enter and maintain leads, opportunities, or quotes in the application. A quote is a formal proposal for a product or service. It is used for follow-up. Existing quote information can be transferred to a sales order or job in several ways. The quote can be converted to a sales order or job. If the Customer Relationship Management (CRM) module is enabled, a quote can be marked as won, which automatically generates an order.

Demand Management

Use the Demand Management module to more efficiently manage short and long term customer demand contracts, as well as the analysis, editing, and reconciliation of cumulative records for releases from your trading partners. If you use Electronic Data Interchange (EDI), you can use the Demand Management module to receive and process EDI messages.

Sales Order Processing

The sales order process is a flexible system you can use to create everything from single release sales orders to complex multi-release sales orders. You can use the Sales Order Processing module to manage sales order creation, sales order modification, and job management. You can create a new sales order from an existing quote, make the changes you need, allocate to a sales order, and then release the sales order.

Configurator

You use the Configurator to create an interface that streamlines entry of sales order options for products with multiple configurations. You can use the Configurator to create a configuration table, which defines the options for a product. You can then use the configuration table to create a configuration table for a sales order. The configuration table defines the options for a sales order. You can then use the configuration table to create a configuration table for a sales order. The configuration table defines the options for a sales order.
