Performance Challenges in Organizational Sustainability Mari Kooskora, Aleksandra Kekkonen, 2024-11-27 This book conceptualizes and clarifies the meaning of sustainable performance approaching it holistically from different perspectives It focuses on challenges related to movements to transform the world economy into more modern resource efficient and competitive while keeping in mind harmonization of environmental social and governance objectives. This has brought along new initiatives and undertakings that invite people, communities and organizations to participate in building greener and more sustainable future. The book discusses the UN Sustainable Development Goals, SDGs, EU Green Deal and Climate Pact and Environmental Social and Governance ESG metrics. It tackles policies and strategies that integrate sustainable practices into business activities to align with these goals, focusing on the increasing number of regulations such as ESG Reporting, Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation, SFDR, Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive, CSRD and Green Taxonomy. The book highlights new challenges organizations will face as they navigate their way through these goals and regulations and provides practical coping tips. It is divided into four main parts which consecutively discuss and analyze the concepts and approaches more generally in the first part, challenges, approaches and metrics on green and sustainable performance on regional and local level in the second part and on companies level in the third part and how top down public sector and bottom up private sector approaches meet. Finally in the fourth part the book showcases concrete cases and best practices related to the above described topics showing how the challenges related to green and sustainable performance have been turned to new opportunities and competitive advantage in different organizations in different industries. The book is a valuable resource for not only academia researchers, master and doctoral level students especially in the sustainability courses and executive trainings but also practitioners, politicians, public officials and organizational leaders interested in turning their organizations into more sustainable units.

Meeting the Inclusion Challenge in Innovation Tatiana Iakovleva, Elin M. Oftedal, John Bessant, 2024-11-18. User inclusion in innovation is increasingly the target of policy rhetoric at both organizational and societal levels. And extensive research has demonstrated the potential contribution that users can make both at the front end of innovation with their ideas and insights and downstream facilitating adoption and diffusion. However, translating this potential into practice remains problematic not least because we need to understand more about how to hear user voices, amplify their insights and provide practical channels for inclusion to ensure full co-creation of innovation. Our earlier book from 2019 Responsible Innovation in Digital Health, Edward Elgar, added to the growing body of knowledge around whether users can be involved and this book opens up the how theme. Our work suggested a spectrum of user involvement ranging from those who can participate fully to those who are passive players in the innovation process and we explore in this book different tools, techniques and mechanisms for enabling such users to become more involved in the innovation process. We look at the concept of boundary innovation spaces as environments in which co-creation can be enabled drawing on experience across a wide international research network. We also explore the broader innovation environment, the specific networks of actors and their interactions which define the innovation ecosystem where user inclusion may be embedded. This book moves the discussion beyond the question of whether users can be more effectively included throughout the innovation process to explore the ways in which
