Epic, Novel and the Progress of Antiquity Ahuvia Kahane, 2025-08-21 This book rethinks the characterization of two highly contrastive forms of ancient literary tradition epic and novel and re frames their function as dynamic points of reference in the history of ideas and in our understanding of the interface between antiquity and the modern Epic and novel have often been construed in terms of sharp contrasts temporally with the epic anchored in the canonical beginnings of classical literature as opposed to the novel which rises only late in the ancient era hierarchically with epic regularly occupying the canonical core while the novel often resided in the periphery and in terms of specific highly contrasting attributes sublime vs subversive an aspiration to oral song vs an intimate association with book culture heroic vs anti heroic or mock heroic Ahuvia Kahane argues for the fallibility of each of several major differential attributes to the point of generic disintegration He then constructs a new understanding of epic and novel in antiquity as part of a more fragile dynamic framework governed by intertextuality and openness on the one hand and by fragmented interpretive traditions on the other
