

SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the set questions.

TEXT A

1. Questions that the 'World Cup-winning Springbok' captain Siya Kolisi answered – some pretty unexpectedly – in his inspirational autobiography, Rise.
2. South African rugby player Siya Kolisi proves to be an inspiration on and off the pitch. He's the first Black man to lead his country's rugby team in more than 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Kolisi's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
3. Here are questions we got answered from Kolisi's autobiography, Rise:
4. Who was the person that set him on the path to glory?
5. Kolisi makes no bones about it. "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Kolisi explains, talking about his grandmother Nokulamile, who brought him up in the township of Zwele in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. A remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in the toughest of times. She would even go without food herself to ensure Kolisi had enough to stave off his terrible hunger. She sadly died in his arms but will always be in his heart.
6. What was his first sporting triumph?
7. Kolisi began playing street soccer as a kid and loved playing goalie, chucking himself about on the hard, compacted earth of a makeshift dirt pitch, guarding goalposts made of bricks. He and his team-mates would share a grand prize of the rands (that's about 25 pence or 30 cents between them) when they won a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy piles of verkoeks – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their meal prize. As often as not, though, he recalled, it wouldn't end with a trophy, but a beating for breaking a window.
8. What first attracted him to rugby?
9. A dazzling try? A thumping tackle? No, what first wowed this wide-eyed four-year-old kid was watching the colossal Jonah Lomu and his New Zealand All Blacks performing their famed and ferocious pre-match challenge, the Haka, at the 2003 World Cup. "To me, it was just another cool dance with lots of chanting, thigh-slapping and eye-rolling, and I'd practise it with my friends in the day and perform it for my dad when he came home from work every evening," reckoned Kolisi.

10. What was the moment that changed his life?

11. Kolisi recalled how his life could so easily have turned a different, more treacherous corner as he got increasingly involved in drug-taking and petrol sniffing with other boys in the township. "I could have ended up a total and from there, you only have two real options: jail or death. Or both," he reflected. Yet a training session for a local rugby team called the African Bombers, overseen by a shouting, scolding, but inspirational coach called Eric Songwazi, proved an epiphany. "I finished that session exhausted, bruised and bleeding, but I walked home on cloud nine. It was the most awesome thing I'd ever done. From that first session, I never looked back, and I never smoked weed or sniffed petrol again," Kolisi remembered.

12. Who was his first hero?

13. After Kolisi received a life-changing bursary to attend Grey High School in Port Elizabeth, he watched the mighty Springboks come to train there, headed by Schalk Burger. "He was my hero, not just because I was a back row like him, but because I love the way he played. He was everywhere, dirty blond hair flying as he threw himself into tackles, cleaned out mucks and ran the hard yards in the tight channels," he remembered. He was too shy initially even to ask Burger for his autograph, but a teacher shaved a pen and a piece of paper in his hand, telling him not to return until he'd got the signature that, to this day, remains one of his prized possessions. "If you'd told me then that one day Schalk would be not just my team-mate but also my friend, I'd have thought you'd lost your mind," reckoned Kolisi.

- 1.1) Who was the person that set Siya Kolisi on the path to glory? (1)
- 1.2) Quote one word from paragraph 7 to prove the goalposts were not real. (1)
- 1.3) In your own words, explain "famed and ferocious" from paragraph 9. (2)
- 1.4) Explain what you understand under the word "total" from paragraph 11. (2)
- 1.5) Why was the training session with the African Bombers an experience for Siya? (2)
- 1.6) What is one of Siya's most prized possessions? (1)
- 1.7) Explain what it means to "be on cloud nine" – paragraph 11. (2)
- 1.8) Provide a suitable title for the above passage. (2)
- 1.9) Give a synonym for colossal in paragraph 9. (1)

At the doors of lexical access: The importance of the first 250 milliseconds in reading Jon Andoni Dunabeitia, Nicola Molinaro, 2014-09-30 Correct word identification and processing is a prerequisite for accurate reading and decades of psycholinguistic and neuroscientific research have shown that the magical moments of visual word recognition are short lived and markedly fast The time window in which a given letter string passes from being a mere sequence of printed curves and strokes to acquiring the word status takes around one third of a second In a few hundred milliseconds a skilled reader recognizes an isolated word and carries out a number of underlying processes such as the encoding of letter position and letter identity and lexico semantic information retrieval However the precise manner and order in which these processes occur or co occur is a matter of contention subject to empirical research There's no agreement regarding the precise timing of some of the essential processes that guide visual word processing such as precise letter identification letter position assignment or sub word unit processing bigrams trigrams syllables morphemes among others Which is the sequence of processes that lead to lexical access How do these and other processes interact with each other during the early moments of word processing Do these processes occur in a serial fashion or do they take place in parallel Are these processes subject to mutual interaction principles Is feedback allowed for within the earliest stages of word identification And ultimately when does the reader's brain effectively identify a given word A vast number of questions remain open and this Research Topic will cover some of them giving the readership the opportunity to understand how the scientific community faces the problem of modeling the early stages of word identification according to the latest neuroscientific findings The present Research Topic aimed to combine recent experimental evidence on early word processing from different techniques together with comprehensive reviews of the current work directions in order to create a landmark forum in which experts in the field defined the state of the art and future directions We were willing to receive submissions of empirical as well as theoretical and review articles based on different computational and neuroscience oriented methodologies We especially encouraged researchers primarily using electrophysiological or magnetoencephalographic techniques as well as eye tracking to participate given that these techniques provide us with the opportunity to uncover the mysteries of lexical access allowing for a fine grained time course analysis The main focus of interest concerned the processes that are held within the initial 250 300 milliseconds after word presentation covering areas that link basic visuo attentional systems with linguistic mechanisms BiblioAsia National Library (Singapore),2016
