The Collected Works of G.K. Chesterton Gilbert Keith Chesterton, 1986 Throughout his life Gilbert Chesterton always had a propensity for throwing his genius around. As a result of this tendency Chesterton penned articles, essays, stories and poems for so many periodicals that it was almost impossible to keep track of them. In this volume Dr Denis J Conlon, Professor of English Literature at the University of Antwerp has compiled Chesterton's short stories, some of which have never appeared in print. Many stories will be new to Chesterton fans because they were originally published in England and never appeared in U.S. editions, and others published in the U.S. remain unknown on the other side of the Atlantic. Dr Conlon also includes the lost Father Brown stories, Fr Brown and the Donnington Affair and The Mask of Midas. There are 43 short stories here, along with a selection of 25 complete and incomplete tales from Chesterton's notebooks and numerous drawings and illustrations. Some of the stories in this wonderful volume are The Coloured Lands, The Sword of Wood, The Trees of Pride, How I Found the Superman, The Five of Swords, Homesick at Home and The End of Wisdom. With illustrations.

Chesterton is remembered as a brilliant creator of nonsense and satirical verse author of the Father Brown stories and the innovative novel The Man who was Thursday and yet today he is not counted among the major English novelists and poets However this major new biography argues that Chesterton should be seen as the successor of the great Victorian prose writers Carlyle Arnold Ruskin and above all Newman Chesterton's achievement as one of the great English literary critics has not hitherto been fully recognized perhaps because his best literary criticism is of prose rather than poetry Ian Ker remedies this neglect paying particular attention to Chesterton's writings on the Victorians especially Dickens As a social and political thinker Chesterton is contrasted here with contemporary intellectuals like Bernard Shaw and H G Wells in his championing of democracy and the masses Pre-eminently a controversialist as revealed in his prolific journalistic output he became a formidable apologist for Christianity and Catholicism as well as a powerful satirist of anti-Catholicism This full-length life of G K Chesterton is the first comprehensive biography of both the man and the writer It draws on many unpublished letters and papers to evoke Chesterton's joyful humour his humility and affinity to the common man and his love of the ordinary things of life      [G.
