Wild Plants as Source of New Crops Petr Smýkal, Eric Von Wettberg, Thomas M. Davis, 2020-12-02 This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic. Frontiers Research Topics are very popular trademarks of the Frontiers Journals Series. They are collections of at least ten articles all centered on a particular subject. With their unique mix of varied contributions from Original Research to Review Articles, Frontiers Research Topics unify the most influential researchers the latest key findings and historical advances in a hot research area. Find out more on how to host your own Frontiers Research Topic or contribute to one as an author by contacting the Frontiers Editorial Office frontiersin.org about contact

Materials and Processes Barrie D. Dunn, 2015-12-29 The objective of this book is to assist scientists and engineers select the ideal material or manufacturing process for particular applications. These could cover a wide range of fields from light weight structures to electronic hardware. The book will help in problem solving as it also presents more than 100 case studies and failure investigations from the space sector that can by analogy be applied to other industries. Difficult to find material data is included for reference. The sciences of metallic primarily and organic materials presented throughout the book demonstrate how they can be applied as an integral part of spacecraft product assurance schemes which involve quality material and processes evaluations and the selection of mechanical and component parts. In this successor edition which has been revised and updated engineering problems associated with critical spacecraft hardware and the space environment are highlighted by over 500 illustrations including micrographs and fractographs. Space hardware captured by astronauts and returned to Earth from long durations in space are examined. Information detailed in the Handbook is applicable to general terrestrial applications including consumer electronics as well as high reliability systems associated with aeronautics, medical equipment and ground transportation. This Handbook is also directed to those involved in maximizing the reliability of new materials and processes for space technology and space engineering. It will be invaluable to engineers concerned with the construction of advanced structures or mechanical and electronic sub systems.

Nuclear Fuel and Accelerator-Driven Subcritical Systems Vinod Kumar Verma, Karel Katovsky, 2018-10-12 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the reprocessing of spent nuclear fuels and discusses the applications of radiation, particularly spallation neutrons and gamma rays. The unspent nuclear fuel of a reactor amounts to roughly 95 per cent of the loaded fuel. It contains both fertile and fissile fuels, minor and higher actinides and radioactive fission products. In 2015 out of approximately 4 million metric tons of spent fuel, only 90 000 metric tons was reprocessed worldwide. The rest was either sent to repositories kept for cooling down or put on a waiting list for future reprocessing. With regard to the direct reutilization of spent nuclear fuel, the new technique of Energy Amplifiers has attracted considerable attention among the nuclear energy community. Presenting extensive information on this technique, the book is divided into eight major sections: i) spent nuclear fuel and alternative transmutation methods; ii) general concept of accelerator driven subcritical systems (ADSS); iii) spallation neutron sources and the possibility of incineration iv requirements for nuclear data v transmutation of spent nuclear fuel and extension of the fuel cycle vi spallation neutron production facilities vii major experimental facilities for ADSS and viii software tools for the design and modelling of ADSS The book is ideally suited as a textbook for graduate students as well as a reference guide for researchers and practitioners
